By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

MRS. HARVEY E. GREENWOOD

There is a newcomer in our midst who arrived already well known and beloved by over 3000 federated club women in Newton. She's making her home in an attractive apartment at 23 Oxford road, Newton Centre. In a few days she'll be at Swampscott, guiding the annual convention at The Ocean House and completing her second year as president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Then after May 19, Mrs. Harvey E. Greenwood will take the summer off for a well deserved rest.

I chanced to call on a day that had been a momentous one for Mrs. Greenwood. There was an orchid on the coffee table, long-stemmed roses in a tall vase and a new dinner ring with three diamonds on her hand! All these, plus a purse of money, had been presented to her at a luncheon by the Federation's directors, chairmen and their committee members. "I'm still in the clouds," Mrs. Greenwood said with awe in her soft voice as she looked at the tributes.

Mrs. Greenwood would make an ideal portrait of a typical American mother. Her hair is white and softly arranged. Behind her glasses are blue eyes that look expectantly for the best in everyone. Her skin is flawless, her stature medium. She radiates gentleness and calmness. As many mothers could well say of themselves, she will tell you, "I have lived rather a quiet life but I've always been busy."

As Edna T. Alexander she grew up in Clinton and lived there until last August. She went through school from the third grade on with the man she later married. But for four years before marriage she worked in a cooperative bank. The Greenwoods made their home a show place because they loved to garden. After his work in accounting, Mr. Greenwood loved to indulge in his hobby of gardening. Mrs. Greenwood was fond of housework and made it her hobby. And she "never wants to stop when she gets a paint brush in her hand."

Virginia, their only child, went through the Sargent School of Physical Education, then trained as a physiotherapist at Walter Reed Hospital. She was in the service for six years. Now she shares the apartment with her mother and works with the Veterans' Administration.

When Mr. Greenwood became ill last year his wife cancelled many of her talks to clubs throughout the state. After his death in April, 1947, she tried to resign her presidency. But the members would not hear of it.

Through club work she had known Mrs. Louis F. Billings of Oxford road. And through a mutual friend she learned of the spacious third floor apartment for rent at Dot Billings' home. So Mrs. Greenwood sold the Clinton home she had loved for 34 years and moved to Newton Centre. It was quite an adjustment to make. Now she finds our city friendly and conveniently located for her extensive traveling.

"Won't you tell about your club career?" I asked.

Eleven Gardens Open For Foundation Tour May 13

May 13, from 11 to 6 p.m., the Newton Garden Tour takes place for the benefit of the Newton Tribute Foundation which was started a year ago by interested members of garden clubs in Newton for the two-fold purpose of planting a "living memorial" to all who served in World War II and at the same time to beautify Commonwealth avenue for the six miles it runs through Newton. Already the efforts of this organization are being enjoyed by all who journey along this route and the residents of Newton because the planting is indeed an addition.

Every Newton Garden Club is represented in the active committees working for the success of the Garden Tour. Mrs. John Clark Jones, Jr. is chairman, and those working with her are: Mrs. Clifford P. Parcher, Mrs. John F. Brown, Mrs. William T. Glidden, Jr., Mrs. Harold B. Cranshaw, Mrs. Howard Thomas, Mrs. M. Fletcher Eades, Mrs. D. Allen Smith, Miss Beatrice Tower, Mrs. Sidney Williamson, Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, Mrs. Earl Ham, Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity, and Mrs. W. Latimer Gray.

The Tour includes the colorful Border Garden of the F. Ashley Day, Jr., their interesting greenhouse on Sargent Street, the exotic tropical room and pictures garden of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Bachrach of West Newton, the intriguing wild garden of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard R. Furborg of Waban, and nearby the Clifford H. Walker's unusual "garden rooms" in Oak Hill Village, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Locke's charming garden; Newton Centre, the gay rock garden of Mr. and Mrs. Joe K. Billingsley, and in Chestnut Hill the fascinating woody terrace of the Austin Bentons. From the Farlow Hill home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gerrity is a delightful view and their lilacs and apple blossoms are a gorgeous sight.

For variety there is a plant sale at the Herbert M. Dunn's in West Newton, refreshing drinks at the D. Allen Smith's in Oak Hill Village, and a "Treasure Table" at Mr. and Mrs. Latimer Gray's in Waban. Should it rain, the Tour will take place May 14.

War Not Near Declares Banker

Speaking at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club Monday at Brae Burn, Joseph E. Perry, president of the Newton Savings Bank and former State Banking Commissioner, stated that although this country must be prepared and strong there is no reason to expect war to be imminent. The human race, Mr. Perry stated, has been in the habit of surviving crises and although the present one is the most crucial of any through which men have passed, he felt confident that this too would be survived.

"Yes," she said in reminiscence. "It began back in 1920 on the hospitality committee of the Clinton Woman's Club. I made a Cinderella-like jump from the kitchen to the throne when I became president. Then I was successively a member of the Federation's public health committee, director of the 11th District and on the moving picture division. Due to resignations it took only five years instead of the usual eight to move from fourth vice president to the top office.

"Are you ever afraid of speaking?" "When younger, I liked amateur dramatics but to this day I am still afraid when I stand on my feet to speak! Yet I manage to start and then I enjoy talking despite my nervousness. I always have a message to give club members but I rarely prepare a speech. Too often a prepared speech would not work in with what I heard at a club's business meeting. During these two club seasons I have attended a meeting almost every day. Often, two or even three meetings. Traveling by bus and train is longer, but far more relaxing for me than driving a car. My correspondence is enormous but I like the personal contact it gives. Many a day I write 12 to 32 letters."

"The Swampscott conventions require a great deal of preparation, I understand."

"Gracious, yes!" she said smiling. "This year we are cutting down on the number of speakers to allow more time for sociability. Boris Goldovsky will play the first night. And on the second night we are repeating a marvelous program of last year by the Lynn English High School Girls' Glee Club. Alice Farnsworth, soprano, and Donald Sanford, baritone, will also appear on the program.

"I believe you chose for your administration's motto 'The responsibility of the American Home.'"

"Yes, because I felt that every department went right back to the all-important American Home. Our young people are often blamed for things that are our fault. The responsibility for our home is up to us mothers. I've always felt, too, that all of us get what we're looking for. If we look for the best in people, we find it; if we search for faults, we find them; too. But I'd rather look for the good things!"

"I suppose, Mrs. Greenwood, that amusing incidents have occurred in your club work, also." "To be sure! My most amusing story came about one night when my husband and I were accused of kidnapping a woman to whom we offered a ride. I was a district director at the time and scheduled to appear at a club some distance away from Clinton. As we drove into the town we saw a woman walking along in evening clothes. My impulse was to offer her a lift. So I said: 'I take it you're going to the club meeting. Won't you ride with us?'

"Don't you dare ask me to go," she cried. "You're trying to kidnap me!" She turned around and moved off, then turned back. 'I'm late,' she said as she opened the car door, 'so I'll just take that chance.'"

"What do you plan for the future, Mrs. Greenwood?" "After my summer's rest, I will start work as general chairman for the General Federation's convention here in 1950. I'll need two years to plan it. There'll be at least 24 chairmen and their committees working on the details for entertaining 3500 club women here."

"One last question, Mrs. Greenwood. What advice would you care to pass along to women holding their first job in club work?"

Quietly she said: "Work without any hatred or small feeling of pettiness. Be big enough to overlook all slights. And work for your organization, not for yourself. That's the way I've tried to live all my life."

Red Cross Tea Held In Honor Of Nursing Services Committee

MRS. ROBERT W. MOORE, JR.

MRS. RUTH B. TAYLOR

A tea was held Thursday afternoon, at the Red Cross Chapter House, Newtonville, in honor of the new nursing services committee, and to introduce Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., the new nursing services committee chairman, and Mrs. Ruth B. Taylor, director of nursing activities in the chapter.

The purpose of this new committee is to coordinate all phases of nursing activities, so that these may be more easily interpreted to the city.

Mrs. Moore's Red Cross record is particularly fine. During World War I she participated in the surgical dressings program. In 1930 she drove for the Motor Corps, and in 1931 she was a member of the first Gray Lady Corps at Bedford Hospital, which was the first Gray Lady Corps at any federal hospital in the East. She served as chairman of the Gray Lady Corps from 1935 to 1941 and organized the Gray Lady Corps for the Newton Hospital, which was later divided with part of its personnel forming a nucleus for a corps at the Marine Hospital in Brighton. In 1941 she organized the Nurse's Aide Corps and has served as an active Aide as well as chairman until 1948. From 1941 to 1946 she also served as a member of the Boston Metropolitan Mobile Canteen.

Mrs. Taylor comes from Melrose where she is a graduate of the Melrose Hospital. She received her B.S. degree at New York University and her public health certificate from Simmons. She worked for some time for the Boston Visiting Nurse Association, and from there went to the Community Services Agency in New York.

Mrs. Arnold Barker, nutrition chairman for Newton Chapter, was in charge of tea arrangements, and Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Volunteer Services chairman poured.

The new committee, headed by Mrs. Moore and her vice-chairman, Mrs. Theron Walker, is composed of representatives of the following community agencies: Board of Health, Department of Public Welfare, Board of Education, District Nursing Association, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, and the Family Service Bureau. In addition, Red Cross Services are represented on the committee by the following: Mr. Philip Brown, Public Information; Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Volunteer Services chairman; Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, Blood Donor; Mr. James D. Blackall, First Aid; Mrs. Arnold Barker, Nutrition; Rev. Richard P. McCluskey, Home Service; Mrs. Chester Alter, Home Nursing chairman and her committee is composed of Mrs. Melvin Dangel, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Malcolm Floyd, Mrs. William Philbrook, Mrs. Wilbur Kingwill, Miss Jane Wyman, Mrs. Sheldon Dunlap, Mrs. Kenneth P. Crafts, Nurse's Aide chairman and her committee is composed of Mrs. Donald Hill, Mrs. John Clapp, Mrs. Harvey Arnold, Mrs. Katherine Abele, Nancy Johnston, Mrs. Russell Burnett, Mrs. Harry Matthews, Mrs. Benjamin Miller, President of the Nurse's Aide Corps; Miss Hilda Batchelder, Mrs. Philip Bradford, Mrs. David

Bigelow Junior H. S. Joins PTA Council

The newly-formed Parent-Teacher Association at Bigelow Junior High School is the newest member of the Newton PTA Council following the recent action of the Executive Board of the Bigelow Association. This brings to twenty-one, the number of schools participating in the Newton PTA Council.

Officers of the Bigelow Association are Frank Avantaggio, President; Avner Rakov, first Vice-president; H. Edgar Pray, second Vice-president; Eugene Anderton, third Vice-president; Mrs. Hyman Levinsohn, Secretary; Mrs. Wesley Smith, Treasurer.

What Is Your Hospital Doing?

An open invitation to all residents of Newton to "come and see" next Wednesday, National Hospital Day, is extended by Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, director of Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Displays and exhibits in Thayer Hall and tours of the hospital at 2:00, 4:00 and 5:00 p.m. have been designed to demonstrate the progressive complexity of modern hospital care.

Back when the "90's" weren't so gay and electroencephalogram wasn't even a word, practical medical techniques could be summed up in the doctor's little black bag.

Today, as guides will show the Newton community, the teamwork and skills of many departments are required to bring the latest methods of diagnosis and treatment to the patient at Newton-Wellesley Hospital. "A stitch in time..." was an oft-repeated adage in Grandma's day, but it took the Newton-Wellesley Hospital of today to practice what Grandma preached... for those who can get accommodations at the now overcrowded hospital, that is.

Incidentally, it was "the lady with the lamp," Florence Nightingale, founder of modern nursing, whose birthday was chosen in 1921 as the most appropriate date on which to honor hospitals.

Since then May 12 has been celebrated as Hospital Day, first in the United States and later throughout the world.

Uncle Sam A Good Banker?

The flow of dollars from the United States to Russia has been tremendous in the last eight years, but the other day $4.5 millions in gold moved from this country to the Soviet without the slightest fanfare.

Perhaps it was because the $4.5 millions was Russian money whereas the $11 billions which had previously gone from our shores to Stalin's were dollars of the American taxpayers.

Yet, somebody in our Administration might have been considered enough of the taxpayers to have mentioned to Russia at the time of withdrawal of those gold dollars that it just isn't cricket to withdraw your account from the bank you owe.

It wasn't enough that Russia should withdraw all its gold from this country, excepting a token pittance of $70 millions, but one of Mr. Stalin's satellites, Yugoslavia, also pulled out $63 thousands. Tito's Yugoslavia had already taken out $104,500 in gold in March without anyone even mentioning it.

Far be it from us to be childish about this thing, but it would seem that a country which has received $11 billions of our dollars on a note held by American taxpayers, should not be permitted quietly to withdraw the last droppings from the only surety we have.

Of course $4.5 millions in gold will not pay this bill. But it is far from consistent for a nation owing us $11 billions—and negotiating to settle that debt at less than eight and one-half cents on the dollar—to withdraw its gold holdings here so that those gold dollars might be spent elsewhere to obtain goods with which to bolster her armaments for purposes of possible war against us.

Then, there is Mr. Tito who has taken $167,615 in Yugoslavia's gold from our country. He owes us just $32,192,067.91 for the same things that Russia owes us. Not to mention his interest in the Greek disturbance which has already cost us $300 millions with no end yet in sight.

Ah, yes, it sure was a new deal, wasn't it?

Class Enrollment

Mrs. Chester M. Alter, chairman of the Home Nursing Committee for Newton Red Cross, announces that there are still a few opportunities for enrollment in the two Home Nursing classes beginning the week of May 17.

The valuable six lesson course in "Care of the Sick" starts Monday, May 17, 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Ask yourself these questions:

Can I bathe a patient in bed?
Can I make a bed with a patient in it?

Can I give a steam inhalation for the patient in bed?
Can I improvise a back rest or a bed table?

Can I call the doctor and describe accurately the signs of illness?

The second class is the popular "Mother and Baby Care" course which is especially designed for those having their first baby, and for anyone who will be sharing the responsibility of a new baby.

It covers all the modern principles of maternal and infant care, and is approved and recommended by all leading physicians and obstetricians. This course begins Tuesday, May 18, 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Both courses will be held at the Newton Chapter House, Newtonville. Enrollment is limited to ten.

POLICE WARN ALL NEWTON RESIDENTS TO KEEP GARAGE DOORS LOCKED TO PREVENT THEFTS

Newton residents owning garages were warned by police this week to keep the doors of the garages locked as more garages have been entered and looted. The average motorist is careless about locking garage doors after taking the car out and consequently such carelessness is an open invitation for thieves, particularly if the garage has valuable items stored in it.

HOPE TO HOLD TAX RATE AT OR NEAR PRESENT LEVEL STATES MAYOR THEODORE R. LOCKWOOD

At a luncheon meeting of the Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Board held at the Newton Y.M.C.A., last week, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood gave reassurance that the city government will make every effort to hold the tax rate for the coming year close to its present amount of $32. If this can be accomplished, the Mayor stated, Newton will maintain its enviable position of having the lowest tax rate of all the cities in the state. At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night, permission was granted the Mayor to use a maximum of $700,000 out of the city's surplus in reduction of the tax rate. Chairman Donald L. Gibbs of the Finance Committee announced that the city's surplus on April 30, was $1,582,143.

SHELL OIL COMPANY AGAIN FAILS TO SECURE PERMIT TO ERECT GASOLINE STATION

By a vote of 10 to 10 in the Board of Aldermen Monday night, the second attempt of the Shell Oil Co., to erect a gasoline station on the corner of Felton and Washington streets, West Newton, failed. THIEVES AND VANDALS BOMBARD SCHOOL WITH STONES AND DO CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE

Newton police stated that thieves and vandals over the week end did much damage to the Ward school in Newton Centre where 35 panes of glass were reported shattered. NEWTON SOLON FAVORS BILL TO INCREASE STATE'S SHARE OF COST OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Committee on Education, of which Mrs. Margaret L. Spear of Newton is clerk, reported favorably this week on a bill to increase to $700,000,000 the state's share of the cost of public schools paid to cities and towns. The bill would provide that the State pay $12,000,000 yearly, instead of the present $5,000,000. The extra money, it is contended, would be raised from the fact that state taxes will be increased as a result of the lowering of the federal income tax.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Presidential Primary

In view of the pitifully small turnout of Newton voters April 27 (2% plus), it seems unnecessary to make any comment on the statistical side. It is now apparent, even to those who have never realized it, that there has for some time been a movement to deliberately sabotage these primaries, complain about the tremendous expense involved in running them and then abolish them. That, my friends, means just this. Delegates to national conventions will be selected by state conventions or some sort of caucus, in which the average voter will have next to nothing to say. Even under the present set-up it has been the leaders of the two major parties who have REALLY selected many of the national convention delegates. If you don't believe that, just go up on Beacon Hill and make casual inquiries of some of the members of our State Legislature. Assuming that they have the courage to give you an absolutely frank and honest answer, you will learn that there were certain ambitious gentlemen who had a perfect right to be ambitious and throw their hats in the ring. There appeared to be a string attached to the hats, because they bounced right back out of the ring.

Well, this is merely the old, old story of reaching a decision as to who knows best what to do. Shall the leaders of the two parties do the heavy thinking for the rest of us or shall party decisions be made by the average voter, even when he or she seems to be somewhat apathetic? You can make out a fair case for both viewpoints. If, however, you believe in genuine democracy, it is hard to give up the Presidential primary, which, in theory at least, gives us all a chance to express our preferences.

Now, let's watch closely for repercussions in connection with the late lamented primary on April 27. Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. During the past month or so there has been what your columnist would term an unfortunate trend in the onrush campaign for the G.O.P. Presidential nomination. The picture which has been painted by most commentators, including the writer, has been the almost-certain Dewey-Taft deadlock at Philadelphia in June. The result? Obviously, the calling in of a substantial dark-horse. Now, because of the huge strides which candidate Harold Stassen has been making wherever he has campaigned, the likelihood of a dark-horse running away with the coveted nomination has increased substantially. Stassen has moved right up front with Governor Dewey of New York and Senator Taft of Ohio. In other words, there may be a three-way tie in delegate strength in the early balloting instead of a two-way tie. The net result of this relatively recent development will be that any and all dark-horse possibilities are being subjected to very careful scrutiny. That brings me to the heading of this particular paragraph, namely, Speaker Martin of No. Attleborough.

Hitherto, there has been a great deal of talk about the distinguished Senator from Michigan, Arthur H. Vandenberg, and about Governor Earl Warren of California. Then, too, we still hear rumblings about the present head of Columbia University, Dwight D. Eisenhower. It appears to be impossible to omit his name from consideration, despite his sincere and whole-hearted statement, which should have automatically ruled him out of the race. Frankly, stranger things have happened in politics within my own lifetime than the nomination of Eisenhower in June. Even the Democrats seems to want him very, very much, except for the die-hards still boosting President Truman. Now we have a new situation, which gives the appearance of being the result of spontaneous feeling in several parts of the country far removed from Massachusetts. Speaker Joseph W. Martin is being talked of as a possible second-choice of a number of state delegations. If it should develop that states like Pennsylvania, for example, would be willing to turn to Martin in the event of a deadlock, the latter could become a serious factor in the later balloting, after the favorite sons have had their fling and local pride has been satisfied during the first three or four ballots.

I now come straight to the point which I wish to emphasize this week. I am willing to grant, for the sake of argument, that Joe Martin can conceivably obtain the nomination, provided that he gets most, if not all of the important breaks at Philadelphia. Next to Taft of Ohio, our own Speaker Martin might well be the choice of the Republican Old Guard, which, believe it or not, is very far from dead. The Old Guard will probably stop at nothing in order to get Stassen out of their hair. Let us proceed. Joe Martin is unquestionably popular in Congress, where he has built up a strong record over a long period of time, assuming that you are willing to forget quite a few sour votes which seemed to result from his isolationist point of view. To be sure, even Senator Vandenberg was, at one time, considered an isolationist. However, he became a convert to internationalism some years ago and he has been tremendously powerful ever since then on Capitol Hill.

What concerns me today is simply this: is our capable and admittedly popular Speaker of the House of Representatives as well-qualified as any or all of his major opponents for the vital office of President of the United States? Secondly, assuming that he should be nominated, could he be elected over Mr. Truman? Those are two fair questions, are they not? For whatever my opinion may be worth, I will give my own answers right now. With all due respect to Mr. Martin, I have serious doubts as to his capacity to be at the helm of these United States, especially in such perilous times abroad. A man can be a Grade A Congressman or even a super-Speaker of the House and still not be of Presidential calibre. That does not imply the slightest reflection on the man's character, ability or record of public service over an extended period. Reducing this to the local level, I might say that just because former Mayor Goddard or present Mayor Lockwood gave satisfaction as Mayor, is no reason at all for suggesting that either man would make the best possible Governor of Massachusetts. And neither man would feel insulted because their supporters for the lesser office declined to help promote them to the higher office.

As to the second point, it is my considered opinion that Speaker Martin would have infinitely more difficulty in defeating President Truman than Messrs. Vandenberg, Dewey or Stassen. I'll grant that he could get the nomination, as I have said above, merely because he is the professional politician's natural choice. What, however, would the people do? Would the liberal Republicans go for Martin? Would the independent vote go for him? I doubt it very much.

It is said that this is as far as the aldermen have decided to go and that no more locations in narrow streets will be granted. The people will approve of this decision and Newton seems now to be very fairly provided with street railway accommodations.

HUGE NEW STAR MARKET to be completed this summer in Newtonville Square

Star Market Food Store—

St. and one of the great new municipal parking area on Austin St. There will be an ample parking space adjacent to the store for hundreds of cars.

Mr. Stephen P. Mugar, president of the Company, announced that despite prohibitively high building costs, it was necessary to go ahead with expansion plans due to the tremendous increase in business and the rapidly growing popularity. Business has been running at an all-time peak in recent months. Facilities in the present Newtonville branch, as well as other units, have been taxed to capacity, and therefore, in keeping with the company policy to make Star Markets the finest in their respective communities it was decided to launch the expansion program without delay.

Not only will this new store be one of the most beautiful in New England but it will incorporate many new techniques and innovations in efficient food handling, to a degree heretofore considered impossible, which will sharply reduce operating costs and overhead so that famous Star quality foods can be sold at unusually low, everyday prices.

Upon completion of the Newtonville store, the Company will launch a large real estate development for a new suburban shopping area in Medford.

Exhibition Of Oil
Paintings By Isabel
Hicks Gasset

It is the aim of the Clairborne Galleries, at 243 Washington street, Newton Corner, to diversify its attractions and to present paintings in different mediums. Following May's exhibition of flowers in pastels by Marion Miller, they have opened an exhibition of oils by Isabel Hicks Gasset.

Miss Gasset is showing a collection of marines and scenes of New England. She is one of the few painters who can successfully translate the iridescent light of the sun on sand dunes to canvas, and her colors have the true luminosity of sunlight. Her old New England houses are shrouded with blooming lilacs and apple blossoms; her covered bridges span the shores of autumn tinted rivers, and in all her work she shows a successful use of color—brilliant yet restrained sufficiently to suit the subjects.

Church Sermon Sunday By Mexico Methodist Bishop

The congregation at the Newtonville Methodist church service at 1:30, Sunday morning, will hear a sermon by a man who has been bishop of the Methodist church in Mexico since 1938, a man whose "advance plan" has resulted in the building of 35 churches and pastoral homes, doubling of the church membership, organization of laymen, increasing of the number of students and scholarships available for them at the Mexican Methodist Theological seminary.

He is Rev. Eleazar Guerra, who is attending the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist church in Boston.

Bishop Guerra, whose father and grandfather before him were Methodist preachers, as was his mother, has preached continuously with evangelistic passion, delivering an average of 200 sermons a year for many years.

He has travelled all over the United States, Central and South America, as well as in Mexico. He was born in Reynosa, Mexico, 50 years ago the 21st of last March. He headed the call to the ministry while studying in a business college in San Antonio in 1920. He continued his theological studies at Southern Methodist university at Dallas, Texas, in 1925-27, at the same time having pastoral charge of the Mexican Methodist church of that city.

Newton Notables

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

MRS. JOHN B. STETSON

Though Mrs. John B. Stetson thinks herself simply as "a plain worker," many a Newton civic group will use ecstatic words in their praise of her manifold activities. Unanimously, they describe her as the ideal type of suburban matron who looks after her family and house so competently that she has time for hard work at many a good cause.

Tall, slender vivacious Helen Stetson transmits her enthusiasm to others. She's a rare type of beauty with black hair and deep blue eyes. Her skin is flawless and fair. She likes to wear any shade of blue in her trim, tailored clothes. And even when sitting, she gives the impression of energy held in leash. When she grew up as Helen Joslin, she lived in West Roxbury and went to the famous Girls' Latin school. Then she went to Wellesley college where she majored in the romance languages—French, Italian and Spanish. During summer vacation work at the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Co., she met her future husband. They became engaged during her junior year. But graduation from Wellesley did not end her student life. She felt the need of supplementary courses at the Hickox Secretarial school and at Miss Farmer's School of Cookery. After this she worked for a publisher of school tracts and a professor who was doing research in Cuban law.

"When we were first married we lived in a Cambridge apartment as so many newlyweds do," Mrs. Stetson said. Then we moved to a two-family house. And eleven years ago we bought this house at 80 Dedham street in Newton Highlands while it was being built. We still think of it as a 'new house'."

There is a large lot, almost one third of an acre, with a tremendous boulder at the back. The living room has an attractive bay window with mullioned windows. Ceiling high bookcases fill the other end of the room. Oriental rugs are a delightful contrast to the plain cream walls and blue upholstered chairs in the gracious room.

Flanking the front door are a pair of small maple chests. "They're not antique, though many people think so at first glance," she said. "And they have the utilitarian purpose of holding caps and mittens!"

The youthful owners of these garments are Judy who is in the ninth grade at Weeks Junior High and John B., Jr., who is in the third grade at the Oak Hill school.

A cherished family story concerns Mrs. Stetson's dislike of wearing hats. "Recently I bought a perfectly plain navy blue straw. It was innocuous as hats go this year! My family greeted it with stares and chuckles. Particularly, my daughter was amused. When I asked why she looked so funny in a hat, Mother," Mr. Stetson, now assistant auditor at the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Co., shares his wife's hobby, taking Kodachrome transparencies and colored movies. Neither of them likes gardening though they raised vegetables arduously during the war. They have made a collection of books about Abraham Lincoln. He is adept at household carpentry such as putting up shelves.

But both the Stetsons share an abiding enthusiasm for jazz. "Not the current dizzy or sweet swing" bands," she explained. "The sort we like is rare in Boston. We prefer the Eddie Condon type of jazz. And Bix Biederbeck's records are treasures. As a matter of fact we have about a thousand jazz records. My husband saved his old ones, changed the needles often and thus kept them in good shape. Some are priceless recordings."

Hers alone is the hobby of knitting wool socks. She prefers to knit the Argyle type though her husband will not wear wool socks. She likes cooking "for fun," aside from the three meals a day stint. Reading of all types—fiction, biography and "who-done-it"—afford pleasure and relaxation. She enjoys walking several miles in the country but not in the Eleanor Sears' way of longer mileage.

And at money raising Mrs. Stetson has what it takes! In 1945 she was the Newton Highlands chairman for the Salvation Army campaign. She's also collected for Newton-Wellesley hospital, the Republican finance committee and the Wellesley alumnae.

Yet most of all she likes to read about and work at politics. This year she's served with Mrs. Eric J. Kermath as co-chairman of the Local Affairs committee of the League of Women Voters. She's a member of the Ward 5 Republican committee (of which her husband is chairman). And she is secretary of the Newton Civic Association which was founded last fall. Its purpose, as stated in its By-laws is threefold: To promote representative, honest and efficient conduct of local government; to induce citizens to take an active interest in the affairs of the City of Newton; and to encourage and support the candidacy of competent men and women to seek election to public office and to support intelligent, businesslike leadership in public affairs.

"We have adopted the aims of the Cambridge Civic Association," Helen Stetson said. "Our group has increased so much from the original fifteen members that we have outgrown the" (Continued on Page 4)

Taxpayers' Association Contends City Does Not Follow Pay-as-you-go Plan

The Board of Aldermen, at its last meeting, took two steps upon the Mayor's recommendations which clearly show that Newton does not intend to follow any pay-as-you-go plan for capital improvements, commented Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, as he pointed out that the Board voted to petition the Legislature for permission to borrow five million dollars beyond the debt limit for public works construction, and at the same session voted to allow the Mayor to use up to $700,000 of the surplus account to hold down the tax rate in 1948.

While these decisions probably reflect the views of the majority of Newton citizens, the Taxpayers' Association believes they deserve more than passing notice, and are requesting members and interested citizens to send their opinions to the Association office, 302 Walnut street, Newtonville. Muther announced.

Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged Holds Tea

Saturday, May 8, the ladies at the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People invited friends to tea at three-thirty. This is the third year that this delightful occasion has been held in May.

Coffee, tea, most artistic sandwiches and cakes were served in the pleasant dining room at the Home to approximately one hundred and thirty friends. It was a very festive party with exquisite spring flowers and candies decorating the center table.

There are twenty-five ladies living at the Home, most of whom were able to enjoy the party with their friends. For those who were unable to leave their rooms, trays were sent with all the tea dainties.

Mrs. Wilton E. Harding again assumed the responsibility of planning this lovely party. Assisting her were Mrs. George W. Bartlett, Mrs. Marjorie E. Gardner, Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, Mrs. Metcalf W. Melcher, Mrs. John E. Peaker, Mrs. Frank L. Richardson and Mrs. Charles L. Smith.

The Fashion Show was staged under the direction of Mrs. Winthrop G. Dow of Wellesley. So varied and complete was the range of leisure modes and hostess gowns, from Helen Moore Inc., of Wellesley, that it is possible to mention only a few. There was a beautifully tailored gold foulard robe modelled by Mrs. T. Stewart Hamilton and an exquisite eggshell satin hostess gown worn by Mrs. E. H.

Nearly Six Hundred Present At Hospital Bridge and Fashion Show

The Nurses' Home was the scene of one of the loveliest affairs of the season when nearly six hundred women were present at the annual Bridge and Fashion Show of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association Tuesday afternoon. Exquisite arrangements of spring flowers added a festive note to the attractive rooms, all of which were filled to overflowing.

Greeting the guests in the foyer were the president, Mrs. Ernest P. Railsback of Newtonville, Mrs. Alexander McW. Wolfe of Wellesley, chairman of the benefit, Mrs. Hubert L. Carter of Newtonville, first vice-president, who was responsible for the floral decorations, Miss Maida Flanders, of Newton Centre, the treasurer, Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs of Newton Centre, finance chairman, and Mrs. Frank R. Clark the ticket chairman.

Dessert was managed by Mrs. Harold R. Keller of Newtonville, and the large group of waitresses was under the direction of Mrs. George P. Hall of West Newton, Mrs. Benjamin W. Pepper of Auburndale supervised the table setting and Mrs. Carl G. Johnson of West Newton was responsible for the seating arrangements. The favors were gardenias, procured by Mrs. Oliver Ames Lothrop.

Political Pressure Cause of Depraved Actions In Germany

Dr. Leo Alexander of West Newton, in an address at the Rotary Club meeting Monday, asserted that in the case of S. S. crimes in Germany during the recent war, "murder and cruelties were not confined to prisoners only but also existed within its own organization."

Jewry To Conduct Canvass Sunday

Greater Boston Jewry is about to undertake the greatest drive in its history for food, clothing, and medical and household supplies. This SOS (Supplies for Overseas Survivors) drive sponsored locally by the Combined Jewish Appeal on behalf of the Joint Distribution Committee, will be a concentrated one-day house-to-house canvass Sunday, to raise a minimum of one million pounds for Europe Jewry and DP's in Cyprus.

Even though many Newton SOS campaign workers have been toiling quietly for weeks, under the direction of Mrs. Maurice Masters and Mrs. Benjamin Ulin, in preparation for the May 16 collection, many more volunteers are needed to make the drive a success.

Dr. Alexander was active in the Nuremberg trials of War Criminals and was engaged in uncovering evidence in connection with the trials. One of his duties was to ascertain and study what took place in German prison and concentration camps. He was interested in the causes which led humans to commit such depraved acts on other human beings, and his conclusions were that the acts were caused by release of aggressiveness intensified by pressure of political leaders.

The belief in Germany, he stated, among certain elements is that these atrocities exist also in Great Britain and the United States but are kept hushed up. "The ruling class," said Dr. Alexander, "sought a method of extermination which would appear the result of natural causes, and the intravenous injection of live tuberculosis bacilli, which would cause death in four or five weeks, was the result of this search and later widely used. "The greatest perpetrators of these criminal acts," Dr. Alexander said, "were persons suspected of disloyalty and placed under pressure." He also stated that "the only cure for this state of mind is through religious conversion."

Don't Gamble with your Family's Safety

A legal flaw in your arrangements for your family's welfare after your passing may result in heavy loss for those whom you want to protect.

Such a defect may exist without your knowing it: a result, for instance, of new laws enacted since your will was made.

Don't take that chance with your family's future. The smaller your estate, the less able will they be to endure necessary losses resulting from legal technicalities you never heard of.

Make sure your beneficiaries will be legally safe. Your lawyer's fee for that assurance will be a highly profitable investment in family protection. See him without delay.

ALAN M. WILSON who is four years old is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Wilson of 242 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands. At this particular time there are two important things in his life. The first is kindergarten, I think we should have said three important things, the other two are his twin sisters, Pamela and Susan who are six years old. It's two to one on both scores so far as Alan is concerned, but we think that with a smile like his, he's in no danger.

Underhill, also of Waban, will be joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Forte for a bundle tea, when about 80 members of Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association are invited to "bring a bundle" for the Benefit Shop which the aid operated on Washington street, Newtonville.

This is one of a series of teas and brunches which have been so successful in gathering together furnishings, toys, books, or used clothing with which to stock the Benefit Shop. Assisting Mrs. Forte and Mrs. Underhill will be Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Mrs. Francis H. Munroe, Mrs. Oliver Ames Lothrop and Mrs. Robert Moore, Jr. The director of the shop is Mrs. Francis F. Williams of Newton Centre.

Is Newton's Zoning Threatened?

A matter of vital importance to the people of Newton has been under consideration by the Mayor and Aldermen of this city for the past several weeks. Comparatively few Newton citizens know about it.

This matter is the proposed leasing of the site of the Newton reservoir on the summit of Waban Hill to the Raytheon Company as the locus for a television broadcasting tower which will rise 200 feet above the covered reservoir. Waban Hill is the second highest elevation in Newton, 312 feet above sea level. Bald Pate Hill at Oak Hill is 6 feet higher, but ascending from a high plateau is much less conspicuous than Waban Hill, which rises abruptly.

Over fifty years ago there were but 3 houses on Waban Hill. Its north slope descending sharply toward Strong and Chandler ponds was covered with a growth of pine trees. It was a beautiful area and was the site of the wigwams of the Nonantum Indians when Newton (then Cambridge Village) was settled by men from England over 300 years ago. It was there in October, 1646 that John Eliot first preached to Chief Waban and his tribe and started the conversion of the Indians to Christianity. This event is commemorated on the seal of the City of Newton.

In 1876 the Newton water system had been nearly finished and a reservoir was built on the west slope of Waban hill at an elevation of 266 feet. It was not high enough to provide proper pressure for some of the higher parts of the city, so, in 1889 when Heman M. Burr was Mayor another reservoir was built on the summit of Waban Hill. This reservoir was covered and grassed over. For more than a half-century a large percentage of Newton's residents travelled to Waban Hill to enjoy the superb view from the top of the reservoir.

In 1943 the Raytheon Company was given a permit to erect a 100 foot steel tower atop the reservoir in connection with its war defense work. It was a temporary permit based on war exigency. A wire fence was built around the top of the reservoir.

In 1946 after World War II was actually, but not officially over, the Raytheon Company presented the tower to the city. It still continued to have use of the structure. The Newton Police Department radio broadcasting station had been given use of the tower also, and still has it. Previously the police radio waves were broadcast from an aerial atop police headquarters, and this facility was adequate.

Around the beginning of this century residences were built on the East and South slopes of Waban Hill, and many were erected during the past forty years and more. They were attractive houses and when Newton was zoned in 1922 the section was properly placed in a residence zone. The owners of these homes had faith in the City of Newton. Their faith at the present is being shattered.

A few weeks ago there was a public hearing before the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen at City Hall. It was on a petition from the Raytheon Company for a permit to erect a steel tower 200 feet high over the top of the covered reservoir on the summit of Waban Hill. This reservoir is the one erected in 1889 as an integral part of Newton's water supply. Comparatively few of Newton's residents and taxpayers pay any attention to matters coming before the Board of Aldermen. But, those who do, and this includes persons who have served in the city government in past years, and who are conversant with its affairs and conduct, wondered why that hearing was held before the Finance Committee. They believed it should have been held before the Claims and Rules Committee.

Here was matter involving the establishment of a business in a single residence zone. And Newton is at the present engaged in litigation to protect its zoning ordinance. The reason given for having that hearing held before the Finance Committee was that under a tentative agreement between the Mayor and the Raytheon Company, a figure of $9000 per year will be paid by the company to the city on a 20 years lease. The Chairman of the Finance Committee told an objector that the city did not have to hold the hearing; it was a matter of courtesy.

Why was not this hearing held before the Claims and Rules Committee? The question was raised and this legal opinion given. Any property owned by the City of Newton (including schools) is not zoned, and can be leased for other than residential purposes. So, if a precedent is established by leasing land at Waban Hill, in a residence zone for business purposes, home owners in any part of the city, in private or single residence zones, have little guarantee of future security from invasion by business enterprises near their residences. Such an important matter as this, a matter vitally concerned with the lives of most Newton residents, should not be kept sub-rosa among the Aldermen. Every citizen and taxpayer of Newton has the right to know it.

Assuming that legally the city owned properties are not zoned, and can be leased for 20 years, or for 99 years, what protection does Newton's zoning ordinance give, if the present city government establishes a precedent by leasing city owned property for business purposes? Moreover this city owned property is the water reservoir.

Water is a vital public utility. We are faced with the imminence of horrible warfare. War which will be an aerial war. A war, the probability of which has been emphasized by Secretary of State Marshall, Generals Eisenhower and Bradley, and such scientists as President Compton of M.I.T. A war which will be conducted by the use of atomic, bacteriological, and magnetic bombs, radar and electronic controlled. And it is proposed to erect on top of Newton's reservoir a 200 foot steel tower which may serve as an objective for such bombs. This is not phantasy or calamity crying. We have talked with an ordnance officer of the United States Army and he frankly admitted he would not want to reside near such a military objective. This hazard does not only effect residents of Waban Hill. It also concerns all residents of Newton who drink water.

A lengthy document from the Raytheon Company in conjunction with its application for the permit to erect the proposed 200 foot steel tower over the 312 foot high Newton reservoir, gives the interesting information that this tower will be leased to a subsidiary of Raytheon. The tentative figure of $9000 per year has been set as Raytheon's payment to the city. The amount Raytheon will receive from its subsidiary is not mentioned. Neither is any estimate given as to the amount the subsidiary may profit from such a privilege.

A lushly, lucrative future is predicted for television. Not millions, but billions of dollars await the television industry. According to "Broadcasting Magazine" the accepted publication of the radio and television industry, only 4 television sta-

Newton IN THE PAST

55 Years Ago—May 12, 1893

NEWTON—The great crowd of cyclists upon the streets every pleasant evening shows how popular the sport has become, but only a few take the precaution light their lanterns and only extraordinary good luck prevents accidents, as the cyclists are out till long after dark and Newton's streets have many dark places.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS—Echo Bridge is beginning to prove an attraction and it has had many visitors the past few days. On Sunday, a large crowd were coming and going most of the day and many visited Echo Bridge Park, only a few rods distant, and enjoyed a stroll through the beautiful grove. Near this grove and adjacent to Echo Bridge Park is one of the most wonderful natural beauties of the Charles river in what is called the "Devil's Den" where New Pond has its outlet, the water having worn its way forms a miniature rocky canyon with walls 15 or 18 feet above the surface of the water.

NEWTONVILLE—Mr. H. F. Ross has 40 men working on the new power house of the Newton and Boston Street Railway Company. The construction work began Monday and the building will be completed about July 1.

50 Years Ago—May 13, 1898

NEWTON—The stairway from Centre street bridge to the station platform still shows no signs of appearing, although in Newtonville a footbridge has been built across the railroad tracks that was not half as much needed. But Newtonville people have a habit of pushing all together, and when they take hold of any needed improvement it is to come. The bridges in Newtonville would not have been allowed to remain half finished for a year or so without a revolution of some sort. But Newton people have a great deal of patience.

NEWTONVILLE—The Bulloughs Pond drain is assuming its final shape and will probably soon be ready for the flooding of the pond which will be a great addition to the beauties of that part of Newton.

NEWTON CENTRE—The Commonwealth Avenue Golf Club will occupy the new house on Algonquin road, Waban Hill, for their club house.

35 Years Ago—May 16, 1913

WABAN—A meeting of the residents of Waban will be held in Waban Hall this evening at 8 o'clock to consider building a club house in Waban and to take such steps as may be deemed advisable to effect a permanent organization, obtain funds, secure a site, procure plans and make arrangements for building.

BURNS MORTGAGE—The Zion Baptist church of West Newton observed its 80th anniversary last week Thursday by burning the mortgage which has been on the church building. The services were in charge of Rev. B. J. Allen and included prayer by Deacon James Bland, selections by the church choir, reading of the history of the church by Deacon Joseph Reed and reading of the mortgage deed by the church clerk, Mrs. Sidney Moore. The honor of touching the match to the mortgage note was awarded to Mr. Moore and the tray was held by Mr. Joshua Hatton and Mr. Robert Hill.

capacity of home meetings. Our last session this spring was held at the Y.M.C.A. Later we will invite some of the city department heads to talk to us. You see, we want to inform ourselves about all the phases of government in our city.

If a man has the ability to pay, he has nearly every problem licked except taxes.—The Westmoreland Observer, Pa.

tions will be granted in the Boston area. There have been 9 applications, mostly from radio broadcasting stations established for many years. One station, WBZ has been already established near Soldiers Field where Radio Station WCOP formerly had its tower. It is 675 feet high, rising from near sea level alongside the Charles River. A second station granted to WNAC is to be soon erected on a hill in Medford near the Malden line.

A third station, it is rumored will be granted to WEEI and may be located atop the building owned by an insurance company in Boston. The radius of television stations is about 40 miles, and any station, whether on low ground or atop a hill, if it has sufficient attitude, will give satisfactory service. Raytheon, which has received the fourth television broadcasting permit, would save a large amount of money if it can erect a 200 foot tower atop a 312 foot hill, instead of building a 676 foot tower as has WBZ. This point was brought out by Mr. Abraham Webber, one of the objectors to the proposed permit to Raytheon. Mr. Webber, a former member of the State Commissioners of Public Utilities, has been a resident of Waban Hill for many years. His property abuts the Newton reservoir. He stated at the hearing on this matter that he would take the case to the Supreme Court should the Newton Aldermen grant the permit.

The Coming Crusade For Savings

By JOSEPH EARL PERRY

Most human progress has been the result of some kind of a crusade. A crusade need not be fanatic, but it does require vision, consecration, fortitude and action, with at least a degree of fervor.

The vision required for a successful crusade need not be visionary. Rather, it requires accurate awareness and true perspectives.

It seems crystal clear that the half century through which we are now living is the most critical of perhaps a million half centuries of human existence. No five decades in all that time can have been so crucial to mankind as are those which began some thirty years ago and have some twenty years more to run. In the thirty years just elapsed there have occurred two great world wars and a world-wide intellectual, scientific, economic, political and social revolution. The remaining twenty years of this half century may include another world war, or more probably, the organization of mankind along lines which could lead to lasting peace.

It is a thrilling adventure and a tremendous responsibility to be in places of leadership in the greatest of all human crises.

To an unprecedented degree the whole human family is making and fashioning the mould in which civilization may solidify for long years to come.

The particular phase of this great transition which is current at the moment is dominated by the so-called cold war between democracy and totalitarianism. At this juncture in that war the conflict is essentially an economic struggle between the two great antagonists in which each is expecting and waiting the economic collapse of the other and in the meantime is trying to set its own economic household in order.

One of our strongest weapons in that cold war is thrift. In the use of thrift as a strategic instrumentality we find ourselves simultaneously a part of the high command and in the front line trenches. What an awe inspiring thought to think that thrift, the very calling to which we have dedicated our lives, may prove to be the decisive factor in man's most crucial struggle for existence. Nor is that thought as fantastic as it might superficially seem.

Every home and factory and public works, every school and church and hospital, came into existence because of someone's thrift. Abolish thrift and every one of them would disintegrate and disappear. The benign and steady and inspiring influence of religion would evaporate. The healing of hospitals and medicine would be lost. The progress of knowledge, all organized government, all standards of ethics and morality, all of the comforts of homes would be ended. Civilization itself would wither, epidemic and plague would scourge mankind, and the stricken fragments that survived would revert to the jungle.

It would be absurd to think that human progress has resulted solely from thrift, but without thrift there could have been no progress.

Just as human progress has reached a climax, so too has the strategic importance of thrift. After our two world wars and the intervening world depression we find all humanity stricken with physical destruction or burdened with debt. Never has the need for thrift been more urgent and universal. Like a pinnacle in the desert the United States, alone among the great powers, escaped the physical ravages of war. But that escape was in some respects more apparent than real for our public debt exceeds $7000 for each family in the country. That debt must be serviced and eventually repaid out of scarcely more than two-thirds of our income, for the current demands of government—local, state and national—absorb approximately the first third of every dollar earned. A public debt which might be paid off in a decade if we could have our present national income and only our prewar tax burden will take several generations at the present rate of retirement.

The entire world is in one of its recurrent cycles of high prices when it takes more and more dollars to buy any specific article or conversely, when each dollar is worth less and less in terms of its purchasing power. This is common knowledge and is nothing new or mysterious.

One of the most far reaching and disastrous influences which has ever swept our country has been the organized mobilization of public opinion toward the belittling of thrift and the substitution of a philosophy of squandering and featherbedding and dependence on others instead of industry, self-reliance and thrift. Ours will be a long and painful road to retrace.

Such, briefly is the background of the crusade for thrift in which are engaged the American Bankers Association and especially its Savings and Mortgage Division.

When a man enters a factory to work he starts to produce goods, but when he comes out of the factory to spend his money in a store he begins to consume goods. In much the same way, when a dollar goes through the teller's window into a thrift bank it starts, through the bank's investments, to become a producer of goods but when it comes out through the teller's window to be spent it becomes a consumer of goods. In this particular part of the economic cycle the direction in which the dollar travels through the teller's window is very important, and that direction is determined in the mind of the owner of each individual dollar.

Since the great mass movements of mankind are but the composite of the attitudes of individual men and women so it is logical for our crusades to start with the moulding of public opinion in favor of thrift.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Congressman Herter Wins Recognition

About once in two weeks I pick up a Boston paper and read a blurb about some city or town in this area. The local government has done something worthwhile or something of interest or importance, or both, has happened there. Then I think of our own city and how relatively little publicity of a constructive nature we get. Several years ago we had some very bad publicity, but that was our own fault.

Why do I bring this matter up now? Because the Boston Herald gave Newton some very fine publicity a short time ago in connection with our veterans housing project in Oak Hill. Our city was given a good spot on the editorial page. Would that we had more of the same. Our Mayor has, I know, given this matter some little thought, for I discussed it with him shortly after he took office on January 1, 1948.

State Legislature

When you find an old Republican war-horse like Senator Philip G. Bowker of Brookline straying away from the reservation, you wonder what goes on. When you note that he is acting in concert with irregular Republicans like Senator Rowe of Cambridge and men like Senators Olson of Ashland, Haley of Rowley, who have been known to kick over the traces every so often, you wonder some more.

On this particular occasion, the state employees pay boost bill, there were two other Republican Senators, Dr. Miles of Brookline and Whittier of Everett, who joined with fourteen Democrats to amend the bill in question, which sought to add $120.00 to all classifications.

Another point. Senator Rowe is reported to be planning to run against Governor Bradford in the GOP primaries this fall. That would seem to make this temporary Bowker defection all the more important. In fairness to Senator Bowker, let me quote his statement in the Boston papers: "If we've got to pay for it, put on some more taxes. We've got to treat these employees properly."

Youth Service Board

My readers will recall that I wrote a paragraph a few weeks ago regarding the report of the Special Commission established to make a further investigation and study relative to the prevention of Child Delinquency. One of the most vital recommendations was the creation of a Youth Service Board, to which the courts would commit delinquent children. At present, such children are committed to a particular institution. This new Board is to have complete control over children through all the steps from commitment to final replacement in society. The Board will make a thorough diagnosis, arrange for treatment, and training indicated by the diagnosis and finally, re-establishment in the community.

By the time this column appears in print, it is quite likely that the Governor will have signed this portion of Senate Bill No. 470. There is, however, more to this bill than the Youth Service Board. The special commission has recommended the abolition of County Training Schools, for reasons which will strike many citizens as adequate. However, there is always strong opposition in the State Legislature and elsewhere whenever anything comes up which appears to weaken or even to do away with any part of our system of County government. Consequently, do not be surprised if any reform of County Training Schools is shoved ahead in the future. More about this a bit later.

Congressman Herter Award

All citizens in the Tenth Congressional district take great pride in the recent award by a leading national weekly, Colliers, of a fine plaque for distinguished service rendered by Congressman Christian A. Herter. Mr. Herter's award was for outstanding service to his country during the past year or two, when he served as chairman of a special Congressional Committee which made an exhaustive first-hand study of conditions in Europe. The idea, of course, was to ascertain just what the Marshall Plan would find it necessary to do.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky received an award from Colliers at the same time. Congratulations to both statesmen. They rate this distinction.

Presidential Campaign

There is general agreement that neither Harold Stassen of Minnesota nor Senator Taft of Ohio gained anything of importance as a result of the Ohio primary. As a matter of fact, it is probably Governor Dewey of New York who made the gain, if there was any. It helped his cause to have his two leading opponents slug each other to a draw. The word draw is used advisedly, because both men fell short of their public predictions as to the number of delegates whom they would secure.

Remember this, however. Stassen has scored heavily in one way. He has forced BOTH Dewey and Taft off their pedestal. Up until now, neither of these two leading contenders for the GOP nomination has condescended to come down from his perch and answer questions from an audience. This is worth nothing. It means a more democratic system for selecting a nominee for President.

The next event of importance is the Oregon primary on May 21. Here Messrs. Dewey and Stassen will engage in another battle to the death. Dewey must do very well indeed in order to be a real contender at Philadelphia. Stassen, also, is on the spot. He lost ground in the Ohio primary and he must make a fine showing against Dewey in order to stay up front.

Finally, from now on watch closely what the various dark-horses are doing. Keep your eye on Vandenberg, the two Martins, (Joe of Massachusetts and Ed of Pennsylvania), Green of Illinois, Saltstall and Lodge of Mass. and Warren of Calif. P. W. C.

Newton Notables

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

THOMAS E. SHIRLEY

Ask any person who's worked with Tom Shirley on civic campaigns and you'll get the impression that any city would profit by having more men of his unselfish type.

A man of stupendous energy and of great initiative, Mr. Shirley takes his home at 67 Annawan road, Waban. His name has been connected with so many good causes that he finds it hard to recall the dates of his work in each. So a bit of telephoning to the agencies revealed the record.

The Y.M.C.A. reports that he has been a director for many years. He is now on its committee for Camp Frank A. Day. For seven years he's been a director of the Waban Neighborhood club. And for two years of this period he was its president. He's treasurer of his son's Boy Scout Troop 9.

For three years he served as a deacon of the Union church in Waban. One year he ran their Every-Member-Canvass.

While president of the Waban Improvement Association he was instrumental in having the open air waiting room built for bus passengers at Cleveland Circle. This required an unbelievable amount of effort because it was on Boston property, primarily for the convenience of Newton residents.

Mr. H. J. Pettengill of the Newton Community Chest reports a fulsome record of Mr. Shirley's steady help from 1938, when he began as a residential worker, through years of increasing responsibility until he became president and then director of the Chest. And the figures show that when he was chairman for the 1945 campaign Newton raised the largest sum it has ever contributed to the Chest.

And now Mr. Shirley is lending his energies to another great cause. He's chairman of the advisory committee of Newton-Wellesley Hospital Building Fund. Again he's working with a group of representative, public spirited citizens.

When you meet Tom Shirley you have the impression that he loves the outdoors. He has a rhythmic walk, calmness of manner and an observant way. His ruddy skin and dark eyebrows are a striking contrast to his gray hair. His love of growing things is evident at his Waban home. Back of the yellow Colonial house are a vegetable garden and a chicken house.

Undoubtedly these interests hark back to his youth spent in Goffstown, N. H. His family were the seventh generation living on that particular farm. He went into Manchester, N. H., for his high school courses and to Dartmouth college for further study. He is a member of the Chi Phi fraternity. He majored in economics. But he went to war in his Junior year and, hence, he has a war degree conferred while he was in France in 1918. As a member of the ambulance corps in the French army he drove trucks, not ambulances! Several months later he enlisted in the American Army at Soissons. He was one of the first ten American soldiers to enter Brest. And there he stayed till the war ended. He came out a "first lieutenant."

THOMAS E. SHIRLEY

Afterwards Tom Shirley worked for the New England Telephone Co. and for the First National Bank of Boston. He is now with the First Boston Corporation, an investment banking company at One Federal street.

Mrs. Shirley is the former Priscilla Clark of Newton Centre, one of the attractive "Clark twins." She, too, had been in France. For a year after the war she served there with the Anne Morgan units.

The oldest of their four children is soon to be married. On June 28 Susan Shirley will become the bride of James Barrie. After graduating from the University of California she has been working for the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. Priscilla is at Gould Academy, Bethel, Maine. Robert is in the Junior high. Elizabeth is in the last year at the Angier school.

Asked about his hobbies, Mr. Shirley said with a quick laugh: "You see where they've been. Bringing up our children... civic work... gardening. Every fall I spend several days with a group of friends climbing the trails on Mt. Washington. We stay at the Appalachian Club huts. I do play golf occasionally at Brae Burn but I'm not always good at it. You see, the civic work takes up most of my time. In fact my most embarrassing moment occurred when I was chairman of the residential division for the Community Chest. I had to speak at the big Chest dinner and assumed that everyone at the head table would wear a dinner jacket. I arrived within five minutes of my talk, found every other man in a business suit—but didn't have time to go home and change. The kidding I've taken about that!"

Then Mr. Shirley's smile gave way to the earnest look of a man imbued with a great cause. "As chairman of the advisory committee of Newton-Wellesley Hospital Building Fund, I realize that the facilities there need to be expanded. This is of such urgent nature that I sincerely hope my co-workers in other civic enterprises will join in working hard for this cause, also."

Sixteenth Annual Meeting Of Community Chest To Be Held on Monday Evening

Dr. James R. Killian, Jr., Vice President of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Secretary of the Executive Committee of the Corporation of the Institute, will be the guest speaker at the sixteenth Annual Meeting Dinner of the Newton Community Chest, to be held at the Normandie Room, Norumbega Park, Auburndale, next Monday evening at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Killian, in addition to sharing with President Karl T. Compton administrative responsibilities of the Institute, is prominently identified with many educational and engineering organizations and for a number of years was editor of "Technology Review."

"Today's Crisis in Charity" is the subject which Dr. Killian has chosen for his Newton address. As, in addition to his educational and administrative activities, Dr. Killian is president of the Boston Lying-In Hospital, he is well qualified to speak on present problems pertaining to the preservation of philanthropy. As he is an eloquent and forceful speaker, his listeners can look forward with anticipation to a brilliant address.

Chester M. Alter, president of the Newton Community Chest, will preside at this meeting, and special guests will be Powell Cabot, 1949 Campaign Chairman of the Greater Boston Community Fund, and Richard Dow, chairman of the Central Metropolitan Division of that Campaign. Mr. Cabot will be making to his Newton audience his first speech regarding next fall's campaign. Reports covering the past year's activities will be made by the president, by Elmore I. MacPhee, chairman of the Budget Committee, by George L. White, treasurer, and by H. J. Pettengill, executive director of the Chest.

Fourteen directors to serve for three year terms and 18 delegates at large to serve for one year terms will be elected, and the directors in turn will elect a president, two vice-presidents, a treasurer, and a clerk to serve for one year each.

DR. JAMES R. KILLIAN, JR.

In attendance at the meeting will be 36 delegates representing the member agencies of the Chest, delegates at large, past and present officers and directors, past and present members of the budget committee, officers, directors, executives and staffs of Newton Red Feather Services, leaders in the campaign organization, past campaign workers and loyal Chest supporters. The annual meeting of the Newton Community Chest is one of the outstanding yearly events in Newton.

Lockwood has announced.

In addition to Mayor Lockwood, the hearing was attended by Representative Whitmore, who introduced the bills; Representatives Spear, Whittemore and Rawson; Senator Lee, Superintendent of Schools Anderson, City Treasurer Archie R. "The City of Newton covers a large area of 14 villages, with 283 miles of streets, and on account of its widespread facilities has special problems as to schools, libraries, fire houses and recreation facilities.

Highland Glee Club Wins Annual Contest Of Men's Glee Clubs

Highland Glee Club of Newton, which has this year celebrated its 40th anniversary, rounded out an important and eventful season last Saturday evening by winning the annual contest of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs. Nineteen clubs belong to the Federation, and meet each year for a contest and concert.

Following the contest, a banquet attended by 275 people, and a concert was held.

The concert, which was held in Jordan Hall, was one of the most thrilling choral events of the season. A chorus of more than 200 male voices sang with almost unbelievable finesse, a program which was difficult, varied, and well balanced, with the benefit of only one rehearsal. Thompson Stone, who was scheduled to conduct the concert was unable to appear, and was replaced at the last minute by Everett Collins, conductor of the Andover Male Choir. The high spot musically was the singing of W. Richter's "The Creation," a dramatic and colorful adaptation of the first five verses of the book of Genesis.

The soloist of the evening was Adele Addison, Soprano, whom —GLEE CLUB—

If you have not made a will, the laws of your state say who will get your property and in what shares. Your wife, for example, may get a smaller share of your property than your children. Your property may go to people you don't want to have it.

You can make sure that the right people receive your property by making a will. Have it drawn by your lawyer so that it meets all legal requirements.

Approval—

and conservatively estimated as $200,000,000 within the next 5 years.

"In other words, throughout the expanding 1920's, the depression 1930's and the war 1940's, Newton has continuously grown in population and valuation. However, during the 1930's Newton needed more public buildings which were not built, and after the war started they could not be built. The buildings planned to cost $4,000,000, during the next five years would have cost much less before 1942.

"The City has an excellent financial position. The funded debt on May 1, 1948, was $5,824,000 which is $13.00 lower than the funded debt in 1900.

"The per capita debt of $185. in 1902 was reduced to $100. in 1921 and further reduced to less than $50. in 1945. The present per capita debt is $69.33 which includes $1,250,000. for Veterans' Housing Development. The per capita debt in 1902 was over 3½ times what it was in 1945. The per capita debt in 1952 after issuing the loans referred to in these bills would reproduce figures as to per capita debt and debt ratio such as applied in 1921 to 1923 when active expansion of housing and population took place in Newton.

"The per capita valuation today figures about $2200. which is 28% above that of 1900 and about the same as in 1923 to 1924, and is conservatively predicted to remain constant during the next five years.

"On May 1, 1948, funded debt within the debt limit was $3,570,000.00. Outside the debt limit was 2,254,000.00.

Total funded debt $5,824,000.00
This left a borrowing capacity within debt limit of $ 848,345.03

Of which loans of $200,000. for sewers and $300,000. for streets have been authorized, totaling $ 500,000.00 leaving a net borrowing capacity of $ 348,345.03

"This leaves insufficient borrowing capacity to care for vital needs for public buildings throughout the City. Also only 63% of the streets are sewered, much additional service is needed, not only main line facilities as well but old lines are reaching capacity.

"It is estimated by the Long Range Planning Board, the Board of Aldermen, and the officers and Mayor of the City that in addition to appropriations from revenue all borrowing capacity within the debt limit for the next five years will be needed for street development, amounting to $500,000. in bonds per year.

"It is further considered necessary to issue $1,000,000. in sewer bonds and an additional total of $4,000,000. for schools and public buildings during the next five years.

"The method of financial planning has been elaborately studied, and the plan will enable the City to care for a sound program, supplying needed facilities to citizens and taxpayers.

"To this end the City of Newton respectfully seeks your approval in the two bills H 2214 and H 2215 before your committee."

Mrs. Concannon and Mrs. Eden Praised For Splendid Efforts

Last week the resignation of Mrs. P. Edward Eden and Mrs. Leo E. Concannon, co-chairmen of Volunteer Special Services, were accepted by the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross. Mr. Floyd, chairman, did not want the occasion to pass without commenting on the fine job they did for Red Cross. Both Mrs. Eden and Mrs. Concannon had given generously of their time and efforts to recruit volunteers for the many branches of Red Cross service in Newton.

During the war and since its successful conclusion they have been in charge of recruiting the many volunteers needed by the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross. It was through their efforts that Newton was so successful in supplying the Motor Corps drivers, Nurses' Aides, Staff Assistants and Grey Ladies that were urgently needed.

Mrs. Concannon first associated herself with the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross in 1941. She taught first aid for a year, then she capably handed staff assistants at the Newton Hospital until 1943 when she assumed chairmanship of the Staff Assistants for the Newton chapter. In 1946 she became vice-chairman of Volunteer Special services. She remained in this capacity until 1947 when she became co-chairman of Volunteer Special Services with Mrs. Eden. She remained in this capacity until her resignation several weeks ago.

Mrs. P. Edward Eden became affiliated with the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross as a volunteer worker in 1942. She has the distinction of being one of the graduates of the first class of staff assistants recruited in Newton. She shortly became vice-chairman of all staff assistants. From that she went on to the duties of first aid instructor. She remained as an instructor until she became vice-chairman of Volunteer Special Services. And in 1947 she assumed co-chairmanship of Volunteer Special Services with Mrs. Concannon, continuing until her resignation.

Due to new plans of reorganization and coordination as set forth by the National Headquarters of the Red Cross, this branch of service is being revised. It will be known as Volunteer Services and will be headed by a committee. The committee when appointed in the near future will be announced by Mr. Floyd.

Combined Musical Groups In Concert

A fifty-piece band and orchestra of forty-four will perform under the baton of Mr. Vincent J. Marotto, instrumental music director. All of these groups are made up of boys and girls from Junior I, II and III. The band will appear for the first time in its new uniforms which were purchased from funds raised by the boys and girls of Warren last year through the sale of magazine subscriptions under the Curtis Publishing Company's school plan. Appearing with the band, also in uniform, will be the head drum majorette, Martha O'Callaghan of Junior III, and the assistant drum majorette, Nancy Tisdale of Junior II.

Few Diseases Surpass Rheumatic Fever as Death Cause of Children

Few diseases surpass Rheumatic Fever as a cause of both death and disability in our children and young adults, stated Dr. Blair of Auburndale in a brief resume on "Rheumatic Fever" before members of the Conference and Study Group of the Newton Community Council at its meeting held at the Newtonville Library.

In the year 1943 the deaths from rheumatic infections were approximately the same as total deaths from polio diphtheria, measles and scarlet fever. Rheumatic fever is now recognized as a general infectious disease characterized by frequent recurrences; it may occur at any age but usually begins in childhood. The symptoms and course are extremely variable and the diagnosis is often difficult. Three major clinical manifestations, however, are characteristic; a migratory involvement of the joints—termed polyarthritides, chorea or St. Vitus Dance, and involvement of the heart. Recent research shows it is caused by streptococci in both the initial attack and subsequent relapses follow upper respiratory infections or measles. It has been found that if streptococcal pharyngitis is prevented by the administration of sulfonamides these children escape rheumatic fever.

The incidence of rheumatic fever in the United States is not accurately known, since in most communities it is not accurately known, since in most communities it is not a reportable disease and in its milder form is probably overlooked. There is no doubt, however, that rheumatic fever constitutes a major health problem. It outranks all other diseases as a cause of death of children between the ages of 10-14 years. Heart disease was found to be the greatest single cause of rejection in men from 1926 years of age in the first draft in World War II and subsequent study revealed that rheumatic heart disease was responsible for the greatest portion of these rejections. It is essentially a disease of the temperate zones. There is a definite seasonal incidence which varies in different localities; the peak is usually reached along the eastern seaboard in March and April.

Rheumatic fever is rare in children less than three years of age. The peak of onset is 6-8. The age of greatest incidence is 5-15 years. It is well known that it is an urban disease and that infection and the crowding together of susceptible individuals rather than a deficient diet may be the explanation. The tendency of rheumatic fever to affect more than one member of a family is generally recognized. Evidence now indicates that both heredity and contact are important factors; the tendency may be inherited but to have contact is also necessary.

Diagnosis is difficult because the symptoms such as "growing pains," fatigability, nosebleeds, pallor, attacks of abdominal pain or frequent colds are often vague. In most cases attacks of the major manifestations tend to occur at frequent intervals with increasing severity and is most marked during childhood and declines after puberty.

Prevention—avoidance of upper respiratory infections and administration of small daily doses of one of the sulfa drugs, under physicians' close observation. Every rheumatic child should have a bed and if possible a room to himself. The 5 years following the first attack or the years until puberty are the most critical when they are most apt to have recurrences.

The best treatment is bed rest, aspirin for joint pains and to control fever. It is most important to explain to the child that his illness is temporary and the rest is essential for recovery. Elementary education and occupational therapy must be provided. The diet should be attractive, nutritious and well balanced. Frequent check-ups are a must.

William B. Baker Elected President Newton Bankers' Association At Meeting

William B. Baker, president of the West Newton Cooperative Bank was elected president of the Newton Bankers' Association at its 21st annual meeting held at the Brae Burn Country Club. Other officers elected were Benjamin F. Louls, treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank, vice president, William H. Wragg, treasurer of the Newton Centre Savings Bank, treasurer; and Seby J. Caruso, secretary of the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Co., secretary.

Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood spoke briefly on city affairs. He mentioned that since 1920 Newton's population has increased in the almost incredible amount of 75%. The city's continuing favorable tax rate was also commented on by the mayor who pointed out that in 1928 the city's expenditures were only four million dollars as against eight and one-half millions or last year. He protested vigorously the statement in a recent local paper that Newton could no longer be called "The Garden City" by reminding his audience that Newton's per capita wealth is the fifth highest of any city in America.

The principal speaker, Harry L. Pope of Fairhaven, Mass., the "Tidewater Philosopher" was introduced by the retiring president, William J. Payne, executive vice president of the Newton National Bank. His humorous philosophy was ably presented and thoroughly enjoyed by the audience of 128 members and guests.

Best wishes of the organization were forwarded to Seward W. Jones, president of the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Co., founder of the association in 1928 who was unable to be present due to advancing age. He was 91 on his last birthday.

Guests included Harold P. Jenks, director of the savings banks division of the State Banking Department, Archie R. Whitman, treasurer of the City of

Rep. Rawson Files Two Bills On Voting

Representative George C. Rawson, as chairman of the committee on Election Laws, filed two important bills last week. The first bill revises the procedure provided by the General Court to allow men and women in the armed services to vote by absentee ballot in 1944 and 1946. Under the new bill those still absent on military or naval duty may be sent an absentee ballot by writing to their town or city clerk. Kin folk of the service man or woman may have an absentee ballot sent to him by filing a sworn application with the city or town clerk. If the service man or woman is a legal resident of voting age but not on the voting list, his kinfolk may have the city or town clerk send along with the ballot the necessary form for him to read and sign under oath in the presence of his commanding officer, which will register him during his service and for six months.

The High Cost of Living and Your Family's Future

Your will may no longer provide adequate protection for your family. The income or property arrangements you worked out only a few years ago may now need complete revision to prevent unnecessary hardship to your family. Since 1940, for example, living costs have soared; income taxes have risen several hundred percent and have been levied against smaller incomes that were formerly exempt.

You may not be able to increase the value of your estate, but you may be able to make new property arrangements that will provide sounder protection for your family's future.

Taking your family needs into consideration, one of our trust officers will be glad to cooperate with you and your attorney in working out a plan that will achieve these objectives. Come in at your convenience.

Columbia University, is completed. Upon successful completion of the two-year course, given by Columbia's School of Public Health, the new assistant director receives the Master of Science Degree.

Columbia is one of the two eastern universities which teach hospital administration on the graduate level, the other being Yale. The course is supervised by Claude W. Munger, M.D., director of St. Luke's Hospital, New York, and universally known authority on hospital administration. The second half of the course includes supervised administrative assistantship to a preceptor in a hospital approved by Columbia.

Following a year of well-rounded training in hospital organization and administration at Columbia, Mr. Sprague came to Newton-Wellesley Hospital last June to serve as administrative Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, the assistant under the guidance of hospital's director.

A native of Rome, New York, Mr. Sprague has had a lifelong interest in the medical field. He took pre-medical studies at Hamilton College, where he was graduated in 1940 with an A.B. degree, with a view to entering medical school. After he taught science for a year at Gorham, N. Y., Central High School, however, the war came along, interrupting plans for further study. During his five-year army service, from 1941 to 1946, he gained considerable experience in personnel and administration work as instructor, training officer and company commander.

Elected to fill his term for two years was William A. Gallup.

President Alter greeted the delegates, agency representatives, campaign associates and guests and paid tribute to retiring officers, directors and budget committee members. He expressed appreciation to the agency officers for the splendid services rendered during the past year and expressed on behalf of the Community Chest appreciation to E. gill, executive director, and Elmore I. MacPhie, chairman of the budget committee, covering the accomplishments of the previous year. As part of Mr. MacPhie's report he included a resolution on the death of Harvey J. Edwell, a member of the budget committee of the Chest, who passed away on May 1, 1948. This resolution was unanimously adopted.

Dr. James R. Killian, Jr. vice president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and president of Boston Lying-in Hospital, the guest speaker, took as his subject "Today's Crisis in our Charities."

Dr. Killian stated: "We have reached a period when the scale of fund raising is not wholly adequate for community needs. The pressing financial requirements of our hospitals make it necessary that separate and frequently competitive campaigns to raise capital funds be undertaken by individual institutions. The basic plan of the Community Fund of having one drive for all local charities is isolated when we find it necessary to run a group of separate campaigns in the same community."

"I would like to give my platform for meeting this crisis in our charities, first, we must inform the public more completely about the needs and opportunity and the importance of our privately supported charities; second, we must organize to meet the capital as well as the current needs of our charities; third, we must seek enlarged corporate support; fourth, we must be alert to advocate federal tax policies which encourage contributions by corporations and individuals; fifth, we must direct all of the fund planning in our communities toward strengthening the principle of federated giving as exemplified by the Community Fund." In conclusion Dr. Killian said "Any effort that weakens the Community Fund is inimical to the whole concept of privately supported charities."

Powell Cabot, 1949 Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign chairman, told of the plans for the next campaign, and Richard Dow, chairman of the Central Metropolitan Division Campaign Committee was introduced to the group. Rabbi Samuel N. Sherman of Temple Emanuel gave the invocation and a trio from the All Newton Music School provided music during the dinner.

Head table guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Alter, Dr. and Mrs. Killian, Mr. and Mrs. Powell Cabot, Mayor and Mrs. Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. George White, Rabbi Sherman, and Richard Dow.

Bills—

thereafter. The bill further provides that this procedure shall be followed whenever there is another war. The 1944 and 1946 acts were for the elections of those years only, but this act will be permanent legislation.

The second bill is designed to simplify the procedure under the absentee voting law. It provides that if any qualified legal voter mails any communication to his city or town clerk stating that he will be unable to vote in person because of absence from the city or town where he is a registered voter, the clerk shall deliver the same to the registrar of voters. If they find he is a legal voter of the city or town, the clerk shall mail him the absentee ballot. Under the present law the voter must fill out an application for an absentee ballot and mail it to the clerk, which takes more time than the procedure under the proposed bill.

Both bills have the approval of the Sec. of the Commonwealth, Frederick W. Cook. Since these bills were filed late, the approval of the Rules Committee of both the House and the Senate was necessary, but Rep. Rawson has obtained their unanimous approval.

William M. Cahill, vice-president and treasurer, extended wishes for the future happiness of Miss Gammons and Mr. Hughes. For the benefit of those who had joined the staff during the year, Cahill outlined the banks retirement plan, the employees savings division, group insurance, Blue Shield, Blue Cross and Educational opportunities. He quoted from a pamphlet entitled: "Human Spark Plugs Wanted", which stressed the need for leaders with ideas and ability, to make ideas click.

John J. Cahill, assistant treasurer and manager of the Newton Corner office, called for action in changes of certain by-laws of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company Associates, of which he is president. Lawrence Crane of Waltham, was elected to fill a vacancy on the association's board of trustees.

The annual meeting concluded with the showing of four films especially prepared for banks by the Financial Public Relations Association, which depicted the right and wrong way to serve the bank's clients.

her faithful, distinguished service and in behalf of the bank, presented her with a beautiful platinum watch, studded with diamonds and inscribed: Ethel Gammons, 1898-1948. Distinguished Service. Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company.

Miss Gammons' hobbies are Civic clubs, church work, extension courses with B. U. and Harvard professors, real estate courses and American Institute of Banking special lectures. In her earlier days she was a lover of the out-of-doors, tennis and swimming and to which fact, she attributes her good health. She also studied music.

In presenting Mr. Hughes with a wrist watch from the bank, suitably inscribed, Director George Davis recalled that Mr. Hughes started his banking career at the Old Colony Trust Co., where he advanced rapidly. During the critical period in banking history in 1933, Hughes became associated with the Waltham National Bank and was made assistant cashier. When that bank became affiliated with the Newton Trust Co., as the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, he continued as assistant treasurer. Mr. Davis pointed out that Hughes served as trustee of funds in the City of Waltham, was an active church member and served the Red Cross and other charitable organizations in the raising of funds, as treasurer.

Following his retirement with the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, Hughes plans to make his home in Quincy, N. H., where he hopes to "go down on the farm" and pursue a long-cherished desire.

In accepting the gifts, both Miss Gammons and Mr. Hughes expressed gratitude and spoke of their pleasant associations with the bank.

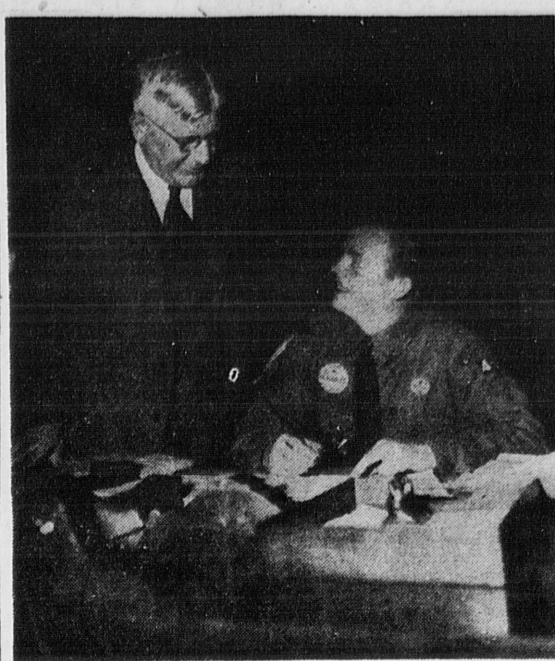

Toastmaster George L. White presented William J. Bannan, vice-president, who represented the officers and directors and extended their greetings to the gathering.

Vice-president Frank L. Richardson paid tribute to the "team" which he described as consisting of the directors, Woman's Advisory Committee, Bay State Corporation and the Staff. He stressed the importance of understanding one's duties and the performance of them, courteously and efficiently. He commented on the importance of banks to commerce and industry and asserted that "in order to retain Democracy we must keep Capitalism."

Jurgens' Orchestra At The King Philip

Dick Jurgens and his famous Columbia recording orchestra take over at the beautiful King Philip, Lake Pearl, Wrentham, for ten big nights, May 25 through June 5.

Jurgens is a worthy successor to Tommy Dorsey who played to capacity crowds at the King Philip all last week. Jurgens, who shortly will be heard on the Coca-Cola Show on the Columbia network, has the most popular sweet band from Chicago to the coast. Their Columbia records have never been out of the best-seller lists, and they are heard over all networks.

Dick Jurgens' band is famous, among other things, for its hit discoveries, its eminently danceable tempos, its full arrangements, its numerous novelties, and for the dynamic personality of its leader.

"Y" Street-Corner Shows Boost Philippine Morale

Open-air community entertainments, introduced by the Y.M.C.A. in the Philippines before the fires set by the Japanese in their last stand had ceased to smolder, attract 150,000 weekly, and are still the only "shows" many Filipinos get to see, Frederick A. Hawkins, Vice-President of the Newton Y.M.C.A., states.

Started by the Manila Y.M.C.A., which, undaunted by the loss of 14 of its 15 buildings began to carry its program into all parts of the city the community programs have since spread to other cities in the Philippines, Mr. Hawkins said.

Held on roped-off street intersections on Saturday nights, the "Y" programs bring amusement and encouragement to war-impooverished people, young and old, Mr. Hawkins said. A typical program includes movies, amateur and when possible, professional entertainers, and a talk by a competent authority on health, community rehabilitation or some other constructive subject.

"From the start, the 'Y' community programs, recognized as a potent force in keeping down juvenile delinquency, have had the full cooperation of municipal authorities and the police," Mr. Hawkins said. "Now they have won added recognition as developers of community spirit. Through these street-corner shows the Y.M.C.A. has recruited hundreds of members for its boys' clubs, summer camps and educational classes. These were boys who had lived through the war; many have been forced to be tough, to lie, cheat, steal and kill in order to keep alive. An estimated 60,000 war-made delinquents and underprivileged boys roamed Manila's streets after the war.

"The street-corner show is not the only method the 'Y' has used to fight juvenile delinquency in Manila. With some aid from the American Y.M.C.A.s and the co-operation and support of the authorities and people of Manila, the 'Y' has cleared vacant lots, set up Quonset huts, and organized boys' clubs in every major district. Boys today are playing games, going camping, earning money through craftwork, finding jobs and homes on 'Y' recommendations, reading books, practicing self-governing democracy, and developing into conscientious citizens through the application of the most advanced social work methods in existence. Government leaders are solidly behind the 'Y's' program. President Manuel Roxas wrote recently: 'I wish to commend the Y.M.C.A. particularly for its boys' clubs and youth work—projects most helpful in the building of a reliable citizenry—and trust that you will intensify your efforts in this direction. You can rest assured of the full cooperation of our Government in your program of service to the youth of the Philippines.'"

Boston Soars As Air Mail Terminal

This week, being observed throughout the United States as Air Mail Week, has brought attention locally to the tremendous use and advantages of Logan Airport as a great mail terminal, but it was not until the past week that the official seal of national approval had been placed on its strategic location by the Post Office Department at Washington when it authorized the direct dispatch of air mails to foreign countries from Boston whenever the volume warrants direct service.

Mail volume as well as passenger volume has necessitated an expansion of services here by all airlines. Additional daily flights to foreign countries, additional flights to all parts of the United States and the inauguration of bigger planes signalled the Anniversary Week for the Hub.

Postal officials in Boston have quickly taken advantage of these increased air mail facilities by ordering dispatches speeded up so that air mail letters accumulated and distributed each half-hour are dispatched to a plane leaving the Logan Airport.

Acting Postmaster Francis A. Crowley stated that he could not impress upon business firms too strongly the advantages to be gained by the use of the new air mail flights; "The extra two cents in postage may mean the saving of from two to four days in delivery of letters to certain parts of the country. It's the biggest public value in this nation today," he declared.

Spot Zoning: And Zoning On The Spot

Residents of Newton in general, and residents of the Waban Hill area especially, are watching to see what action will be taken by the Newton Board of Aldermen on the matter of leasing the Newton water reservoir site on Waban Hill for a commercial television broadcasting tower.

This matter is of vital import to the future of Newton. On it depends the future of zoning protection to owners of residences in this city.

When the Zoning Ordinance of Newton was established, it was provided that on city owned properties, no building or alteration of any existing building shall be permitted until the land so changed in use shall have been zoned by the Board of Aldermen. In the past this provision of the Zoning Ordinance has been complied with.

So, former members of Newton city governments, and even some members of the present Board of Aldermen questioned why the public hearing on April 29 on the leasing of the water reservoir site was held before the Finance Committee of the Aldermen instead of the Claims and Rules Committee? The alleged reason was given that the matter was before the Finance Committee because a financial consideration ($8000 yearly rental) was involved. This ingenious explanation did not alter the fact that this matter should have come first before the Claims and Rules Committee. When, in the past (and even recent past) applications were received from persons who desired to buy city owned land, public hearings were held on such matters, and they were held before the Claims and Rules Committee. And financial consideration was involved in those proposed sales of city owned land.

The chairman of the Finance Committee presided at the public hearing on April 29. Incidentally, the hearing was actually held before most of the board. The chairman told one of the large number of citizens who came to the hearing to evidence their opposition, that the aldermen did not have to hold that public hearing, it was a matter of courtesy. That remark was significant. Had the matter been referred to the Claims and Rules Committee, as it properly should have been, it would have been compulsory to have held a public hearing. Property owners in Newton who want to have a guarantee of zoning protection should pay attention to this by-passing of our zoning ordinance.

According to residents of the Waban Hill section who attended the hearing on April 29, they did not receive unbiased treatment. The attorney for the petitioners, according to the Waban Hill people, was permitted to speak at great length, but there was not the same friendly attitude toward the objectors. A petition containing hundreds of names in opposition did not seem to receive much consideration from many of the Aldermen, and an attempt was made to favorably rush the lease of the reservoir site through at the first opportunity.

Two women, owners of homes quite near the reservoir on Waban Hill, were refused the right to voice their objections.

In past years the City Solicitor had consistently ruled against "spot zoning." If allowing a huge, commercial television broadcasting tower in a residence zone is not "spot zoning," what is? In addition to the tower atop the reservoir, there will also be a building 60 by 30 feet. And it is more than possible that with advancements in television broadcasting, other (or larger) structures might follow in years to come.

Nearly two score years ago the Franciscan Sisters established a convent and school on Manet road. They conduct the Mount Alvernia Academy which has hundreds of pupils. Their property adjoins the water reservoir on Waban Hill. Reasonably, they are strongly opposed to the establishment of a commercial broadcasting station alongside their convent and school, and the erection above them of a 200-foot tower which would be not only a menace in time of predicted war, but also a hazard in time of peace. There is the possibility of an airplane crashing into a high tower on a high hill some foggy night, and splashing flaming gasoline over the surrounding neighborhood.

Two alleged reasons have been given in favor of permitting the big commercial, television on top of Newton's water reservoir. One is that it is of benefit to the Newton Police Department in its radio broadcasts. Most of the police departments in this state have their radio broadcasting masts on, or alongside their headquarters. Even if changes to microwaves will make it an advantage to have a police aerial on top of a hill, this does not mean that a private corporation should be granted the very valuable privilege to erect a big, commercial station in a residence zone and to create a war hazard over a city's water reservoir.

Should the Newton Board of Aldermen lease the reservoir site and by such action knock the props from zoning protection in this city, they will invite severe criticisms. And the legal department of the City of Newton may have some lengthy litigation ahead of it.

We are on the threshold of another summer season. Already folks are getting out of doors more, taking more drives into the blossoming countryside, and looking forward to many pleasant weekend trips. They are nice things to think about, aren't they?

Keep in mind that you may be a bit rusty in your driving skill, your alertness to dangerous situations, your reaction time, and even your knowledge of certain driving rules and regulations.

"Let's enjoy these summer months—and avoid highway accidents."

POLITICS WITH COLOR

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

What Might Happen If Congress Elected Our President

Columnist David Lawrence made an interesting experiment recently through the medium of the magazine "U. S. News World Weekly", an independent weekly. He listed seven prominent candidates and dark-horses in the Republican party and then asked ALL members of Congress, Republicans and Democrats alike, how they evaluated these men on the basis of probable performance, if elected to the Presidency. Lawrence did not ask for the strict personal preference of the various U. S. Senators and Congressmen. Please note that fact. The results of this unique poll are so interesting that I reproduce it herewith.

| | Very Good | Fair | Poor |
|------------|-----------|------|------|
| Taft | 197 | 91 | 40 |
| Vandenberg | 181 | 106 | 39 |
| Dewey | 140 | 135 | 50 |
| Martin | 136 | 128 | 65 |
| Stassen | 75 | 151 | 97 |
| MacArthur | 74 | 115 | 126 |
| Warren | 48 | 194 | 64 |

Now, suppose we attempt to analyze these figures and discover what, if anything, they may mean. First of all, as might be expected, we find that the three members of the Congress are included in the top four. Governor Dewey is the only outsider. His record as Governor and the fact that he was the 1944 nominee of his party practically force his inclusion, whether or not the Old Guard likes it.

Next, note the position of Harold Stassen, former Governor of Minnesota. He is a very poor fifth out of seven candidates, actual or potential. Why? He won the only two really significant victories in the primaries, namely, in Wisconsin and Nebraska. It was almost fifty-fifty between him and Dewey in Oregon; Taft's victory in his own state is not profoundly significant, as I see it, and Dewey's margin over Stassen in New Hampshire is offset by Stassen's "write-in" victory in Pennsylvania. The natural question which many of us average voters would like to ask our U. S. Senators and Congressmen is this: "Why, gentlemen, do you rate Stassen a very bad fifth among seven prominent Republicans?"

Well, my personal guess is that many of the Congressmen either belong to or owe their present positions to the so-called Old Guard of the G. O. P. Inasmuch as Harold Stassen represents the younger, more independent and more liberal wing of the Republican party throughout the nation, it is, perhaps, only natural that the very conservative element of the G. O. P. looks askance at the unorthodox Minnesotan. As a matter of fact, if the truth were known, the Old Guard is probably equally hostile to Governor Dewey of New York. However, his impressive public record, his remarkable radio technique, exalted only by the late F. D. R. in the opinion of many experts, and his prowess as a campaigner make it necessary for the conservative group in the G. O. P. to play along with him. It may not make much sense now, but it is perfectly possible that President Truman, as a result of international developments or internal crises, might gain heavily in popular appeal among the rank and file of voters between now and election day. In that case, it might be safer to have Dewey as the party nominee instead of Stassen.

Next I wish to point out the impressive strength of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan in this poll. He runs very closely behind Taft. Indeed, if you add the very good and fair score of these two men you will find that only one vote separates them. That is worth thinking about.

Then we have Speaker of the House Martin of Massachusetts. He is a good fourth in the "very good" tabulation. However, if you add the "fair" and "poor" votes you find that these total 193 as against 136 votes under the heading "very good". Not so good, tho', in fairness to Martin, let me remind you that the chart shows above represents BOTH parties. Even so, Martin is reputed to be outstandingly popular with the opposition party. This applies, also, to Vandenberg but NOT to the intellectual Senator from Ohio, Robert A. Taft.

Finally, note the poor position of popular Governor Earl Warren of California. Of course, he has the largest number of votes under the "fair" designation in addition to ranking ahead of Martin, Stassen and MacArthur as a "poor" choice. Said to relate, the majority General in Japan received the largest number of votes as a "poor" choice. There are many angles to that.

As most of my readers will doubtless perceive, these figures were compiled on a non-partisan basis, it is worth noting that the Republicans, voting by themselves, gave Senator Taft 140 out of a possible 209 votes cast and that Vandenberg obtained 92 votes. Next in order came Dewey, Martin, Stassen, MacArthur and Warren. In other words, the G. O. P. vote, taken by itself, followed the pattern of the combined vote from start to finish. Interesting, is it not?

State Legislature
As usual, when the warm weather shows up around the corner, our Legislators on Beacon Hill grow restive and decide to get back home as quickly as possible. This year, with the two major party conventions just over the horizon, it is, perhaps, natural that those bills remaining in the legislative hopper should be dragged to the fore and given some typical hurried treatment. To be sure, it doesn't make sense to behave this way every single year. What, however, are we going to do about it?

Please read the papers carefully the next few days and see what goes on. Important matters such as the charter bills, involving Boston in particular, are only now being debated on the floor of the House and Senate. And that is but one of over a half-dozen bills which should, by rights, have been disposed of many, many weeks ago. If more citizens would take the trouble to watch the work of the Legislature, the "Boys" might cut out the usual procedure of rushing through unimportant bills and stalling indefinitely on many of the important, controversial bills. I wonder what the League of Women Voters does about this problem; also, what the recently formed Newton Civic Association proposes to do. There is a real job for some organization to tackle.

P. W. C.

From an address by the president of the Newton Savings Bank, at the Eastern Regional Savings and Mortgage Conference of the American Bankers Association on March 15, 1948.

In our most recent mailing we enclosed the very excellent leaflet on Personal Money Management prepared by the Personal Money Management Committee of our Savings Division.

There has been a wide spread improvement in the kind of reports which are published by the banks. They are made more attractive, more informative and more readable. It is none too soon for banks of all types to embark on such a program. Such statements can be an effective instrument in our crusade for thrift if they are made sufficiently attractive and informative to hold reader attention and create a desire to be thrifty.

One of the enemies of thrift previously alluded to is the prevailing era of inflation. The most generally recognized leader in the battle against inflation is the American Bankers Association. Every one of the five points in the Association's anti-inflation program invokes the practice of thrift. Notice their now familiar admonitions to the public.

1. Buy only what you need.
2. Borrow only for essential purposes.
3. Spend carefully and avoid black markets.
4. Save regularly in your bank account.
5. Invest regularly in United States Savings Bonds.

Likewise, note the three point program which they suggest for banks.

1. Seek sound loans that will increase the supply of needed goods.
2. Discourage speculative borrowing and unessential loans that will contribute to inflationary demand.
3. Encourage systematic savings in bank accounts and regular purchases of United States Savings Bonds.

The coming crusade for savings will not seek to resemble the hundred yard dash with its few contenders and numerous bystanders, its starting gun and stopwatch finish. In contrast, it will aim to have everyone a participant and its duration will be in terms of years rather than seconds. This Savings Division and all the banks and bankers will be participants and leaders but the crusade will fail of its richer fulfillment unless the very climate of our mass thinking shall have been transformed. In season and out of season we, as bankers, must practice and exhort, educate and lead, with vision, courage, tenacity, and fervor.

Starting in the minds and wills of the bank executives the attitude of thrift should spread to all their associates and employees, to their customer contacts, and to their several communities until the atmosphere of waste and profligate spending in public and in private shall be transformed to one of thrift and wise expenditure. It should expand to embrace not only thrift in dollars but in all human resources, spiritual as well as material. In the matter of bank opera-

Newton in the Past

55 Years Ago — May 26, 1893

NEWTON—George W. Bush will put on a barge next Tuesday to run from the Newton station to Oak Square, leaving the station on the hour and half hour and connecting with the Oak Square electric. A handsome new barge with seats for 25 has been secured. A 10 cent fare will be charged at first, but if enough ride to make it pay, the fare will be reduced to 5 cents.

The Newton and Boston electric cars have made it easy for people to visit the Newton Cemetery, and certainly no more beautiful spot can be found in the vicinity of Boston. The natural advantages have been made the most of under the management of the board of trustees and the superintendent, Harry Ross, and new beauties greet the eyes of the visitors every season.

50 Years Ago — May 27, 1898

NEWTON — Master Homer Emice Pearson, little 6-year-old son of George L. Pearson, had the honor of being the first regular donor to put money in the new Newton Savings Bank when it opened its doors to the public on Monday morning.

NEWTON — The Newton-Brighton cars began running to Nonantum Saturday morning and the patrons can now connect closely with the Newton lines, or if it rains they can take a carriage at Mr. Daniel's stable. So many cars now stand in the square that there will probably soon be a demand for widening the street, especially between Centre street and the bridge.

THREE ALARM FIRE — At an early hour yesterday morning West Newton was visited by one of the most disastrous fires that has occurred in the city for a number of years. It was discovered shortly after 2 a.m. in the large planing mill of William F. Pettigrew on North Prospect street. On arrival of the fire engine the whole front of the building was wrapped in flames and adjoining buildings being in danger, second and third alarms calling out the entire department. The fire was extinguished by the arrival of the fire engine. The flames at one time threatened the rear of St. Bernard's Church toward which the wind was blowing. The carriage sheds in the rear of the church were destroyed.

35 Years Ago — May 30, 1913

The new tractor for the truck at Newtonville was tested and so far has proved successful. The three-wheel device attracted much attention when viewed by Mayor Hatfield in front of the City Hall. The engine is 40 horse power and is capable of carrying the truck at a rate of 25 miles an hour.

An audience of men and women from nearly all wards of the city taxed Players Hall, West Newton, on Monday evening when Hon. John A. Sullivan of Boston and Mrs. A. J. George of Brookline spoke in opposition to woman suffrage.

Newton Dental Society Hears Talk On Oral Developments

The Newton Dental Society held its regular meeting at the Y.M.C.A. Monday night. Dr. A. B. Norley, president, presided.

Dr. Ralph Thompson of Newton Highlands, introduced Dr. Daniel Holland the speaker who has known for a number of years. Dr. Holland, an oral surgeon, who is associated with the Massachusetts General Hospital and Dr. Kurt Thoma gave a brief history on the developing of the Oral Surgeons up to the present time. He then took up a number of cases in which the newer drugs are being used to a definite advantage.

Important to see them in perspective, as means toward larger objectives. It is important that we strive to perfect ourselves as bankers, but it is more important that we see ourselves as citizens of a great nation, as citizens of a great civilization. It is important for us to see ourselves as leaders in a crusade for savings, but it is more important for us to see ourselves as leaders in a crusade to turn this great crisis in human affairs into a supreme opportunity for human welfare.

The history of mankind has had its ripples and waves and tides, its peaceful eddies and roaring cataracts, but its stream moves ever forward and the far horizon of its ocean is ever level. We shall best serve our times if, in spite of present confusions and pressures, we maintain our poise and our perspective; if we see that all material values are dependent on spiritual values; that our best contribution as leaders in this greatest of all human crises can be made in the realm of spiritual values. Thrift is both spiritual and material. It is one of the crucial needs in this crucial moment in history. Let us throw ourselves into our crusade for savings with vision, consecration, fortitude and fervor.

Rep. Rawson to Seek Re-election in Fall

Representative George E. Rawson has announced that he will be a candidate for renomination in the Republican Primary Sept. 14 in the Fourth Middlesex District (Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of Newton). He is a life-long Republican.

He has long been active in Newton affairs, having served as a member of the Republican City Committee since 1929.

From 1934 to 1943, he was alderman at large from Ward 7. During that time he was a member of the public works committee, and for seven years was chairman of the committee on claims and rules. He did much to improve and strengthen the zoning ordinance, which he felt was vital to keeping Newton the kind of city it is. In 1939, he secured the enactment of the new building code which is still considered one of the best in the state.

He was first elected to the House of Representatives in 1942 and reelected in 1944 and 1946. In his first term he was appointed clerk of the committee on election laws, and also clerk of the committee on military affairs and public safety. Since 1945, he has been chairman of the committee on election laws.

During his service as clerk, and later as chairman of election laws, he has had a large part in the first general revision of the election laws in over 30 years. He served as vice-chairman of the recess commission to study election laws in 1945-46. For his work with election laws he was commended by William E. Mullins of the Boston Herald in his column of July 4 last.

As clerk of military affairs and public safety committee, he has had a large part in most of the constructive legislation for veterans and their dependents. He also had a part in the enactment of the original legislation for the enlargement and modernization of Logan Airport. During his first term he was one of a sub-committee of three to whom was given the problems arising out of the Mount Grove disaster of 1942. He and Senator Clapitt wrote the Public Safety

HON. GEORGE E. RAWSON

Act of 1942, which brought the building inspection and fire prevention laws up to date and made them applicable to Boston, which had never been done before.

During the last recess of the General Court he served on the recess commission to redistrict the Commonwealth.

Believing in keeping taxes down, he secured the defeat last year of a bill which would have increased the state income tax. In 1946, he led the successful fight to defeat a proposed inheritance tax on the proceeds of life insurance policies.

Rep. Rawson is a native of Holliston. He was educated in the public schools there, and was graduated from Amherst, magna cum laude, in 1908. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and also of Phi Beta Kappa. He has been secretary of his class for many years. He has spent his life in the insurance business. He is a member of the Boston Life Underwriters Association and the National Association of Life Underwriters. He is also a trustee of the Stone Institute and Home for Aged People of Newton.

The Rawsons have lived at 22 Marlboro street, Newton, 29 years. Mrs. Rawson was very active in Red Cross work during the war. Their two children are both graduates of the Newton schools, their son, Edward, served overseas with Patton's Third Army in the last war.

Mrs. Abner Cohan Is Co-Chairman of Sacrifice Luncheon

Mrs. Abner Cohan of Newton and Mrs. Wolfe Wolfsohn of Cambridge have been named co-chairmen of the sacrifice luncheon of the combined Jewish appeal women's division, according to Mrs. Joseph Schneider, WD chairman. The luncheon for $100 minimum contributors, which is held in the fall, is one of the major events in the women's division campaign.

Neither co-chairman is a newcomer to the women's division. Mrs. Cohan has climbed the ladder steadily for 16 years, beginning at the bottom as a Newton worker. She later became Newton co-chairman of events, and vice chairman of the sacrifice luncheon.

During the war, Mrs. Cohan and Mrs. Wolfsohn saw home service. The former taught bandaging for the Massachusetts Women's Defense Corps and worked as a nurses' aid at the Newton Hospital.

Among her other activities, the co-chairman from Newton is chairman of the membership com-

Camp Massasoit To Open Season June 21

Camp Massasoit, day camp at the Newton YMCA, will carry on its fifth consecutive season this summer, opening Monday, June 21, and completing its nine weeks of camping on Saturday, August 21. The camp enrollment is limited to 130 boys for each three week period, in order to carry on an efficient and satisfactory program as possible.

Dr. Edwin P. Leonard is the chairman of the Camp Committee which formulates the camp policies and helps in the administering of the program.

mittie of the Jewish family and children's service and on the boards of Hecht House and Camp Country week. She was formerly a board member of the Beth Israel Hospital and had an active part in the Newton Community Chest when Newton had a separate organization. In recognition for all her community service she was awarded the Advocate Rose.

Mrs. Cohan, the former Lillian Halpern, was born and brought up in New York City until she came to Sargent College. Two weeks after graduation she married Abner Cohan, Boston merchant. Mr. and Mrs. Cohan have three daughters: Mrs. Richard Weinberg; Barbara, 22, soon to be married to Howard Fine; and Betsy, 20, and a year-and-a-half old grandson, Richard Weinberg, Jr.

First Term Of Senator Lee In Legislature A Busy One

State Senator Richard H. Lee, of Newton, will complete a very busy first term in the Senate when the legislature winds up its work in the near future. During this period he has had an unusually heavy committee assignment, being a member of the Committees on Cities, Legal Affairs, Banks and Banking, Public Health and "Service."

Senator Lee is chairman of the Committee on Public Service which handles all bills affecting wages and hours of public employees. This committee receives little publicity but is one of the busiest at the State House with about 150 bills each year, upon the proper handling of which the labor relations of our public employees depends. This committee has straightened out many inequalities in working conditions, it secured the establishment last year of longevity raises and at the present session Senator Lee worked with Governor Bradford to secure the repeal of a program which has just been enacted. In spite of having to say "no" to many demands for higher wages and other benefits, the committee has retained the good will of the unions and other employee groups. For example, the June, 1947, News Letter of the State Employees Association commented on a tenure bill for state police as follows: "It is the everlasting credit of the Committee on Public Service that it reported favorably on this bill. . . . Senator Richard H. Lee, of Middlesex, . . . great credit for his year's work on the difficult negotiations preceding S-518 and the final passage of this measure."

Last summer, Senator Lee was named chairman of two interim commissions, one on Public Health made a comprehensive study of Public Health in this state. Many of its recommendations have already been adopted. There is a move by persons interested in public health to have this commission continued. Mr. Lee was also chairman of a commission established to study Workmen's Compensation Laws. This commission examined this rather complicated act which has been amended 387 times since it was first enacted, and recommended that sweeping revisions be made. This commission set some sort of a legislative record by returning unpaid to the state treasury more than $4300 of the $5000, which it was authorized to spend.

Senator Lee is the author of the bill to legalize the sale of yellow oleomargarine, which has been prohibited in the past by state law. This bill is now in a conference committee, having passed both houses. He has worked for a charter referendum for Boston, to give the citizens of Boston a chance to vote on the question of changes in their form of charter. Boston is the only city in the state where the voters have no opportunity to make a change in their city charter. It has one of the most antiquated charters.

The housing problem caused a great deal of discussion during the past two years. One of the measures which has been hailed as a great factor in breaking the bottleneck of lack of supplies, is Chapter 631, Acts of 1947, which permits substitution of building material of equal quality for those prescribed in a local code. Housing Action, published by the Housing Association of Metropolitan Boston, reported in the leading article of the December, 1947, issue: "The crucial fight on this act was in the Senate, where Senator Ralph V. Clamit prepared the final draft of the bill and Senator Richard H. Lee spearheaded a powerful bloc which succeeded in pushing the bill along over the opposition of former Senate President Donald Nicholson."

Richard D. Morse To Study At Sorbonne

Richard D. Morse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morse, 24 Windsor road, Newton, has been awarded a scholarship to study at the "Sorbonne" in Paris, France, this summer.

The ward was granted by Principia college in Elmhurst, Ill., where Mr. Morse is completing his second year of study. It was given by the School of Nations, a department of the college. Mr. Morse served in the armed forces during World War II, and travelled in Germany and France during that period. He is sailing on June 23 for Paris where he will attend the "Sorbonne" for six weeks before returning to this country to continue his studies at Principia college.

Marion Moody is director for the year and Margaret Hogsett, co-director. An extra fine entertainment was given by the well known bell-ringer Edith Marshall Clarke.

The Annual Meeting and picnic of the Newton Smith College Club will take place at the home of Mrs. John C. Campbell, 40 Sylvan Avenue, West Newton, next Wednesday evening. How To Recognize Early Signs Of Illness In Children Is Discussed

The Bowen School Parent Teacher Association, Newton Centre, heard a talk at its last meeting by Dr. Leslie Macmillan, Newton pediatrician, on the subject "How to Recognize Early Signs of Illness in Children."

A child's behavior usually shows when he is not feeling well," Dr. Macmillan said. "Parents are wise to pay attention to children's complaints of not feeling well. Serious complications of most illnesses can be prevented by consulting a doctor early."

Dr. Macmillan suggested that parents should know how to take the child's temperature, and use it as one indication of the state of his health.

She said that rheumatic fever is the principal cause of death among school age children, and therefore, parents should know its early symptoms, which are: complaint of not feeling well, failure to gain weight, poor appetite, pallor, repeated nosebleeds, persistent fever, and frequent complaints of pain in the legs, arms or abdomen.

Dr. Macmillan told the parents that some childhood diseases, such as mumps and German measles, can be very serious to adults. She said, therefore, it is desirable that children be exposed to them so that they will develop natural immunity and avoid the greater dangers of having these diseases when they are adults.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Ruth N. Brooks, health educator of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, who showed a color filmstrip on child health.

Also on the program, which was arranged by the secretary, Mrs. William M. Hopf, was a short concert by the new Bowen School orchestra, led by Alvin Parker, regional director of music in the Newton public schools.

President of the association, Mrs. Serafin Tornabene, announced that Newton Red Cross has arranged to have the Bloodmobile Unit at the Chapter House, June 14, 15, and 16.

The annual election of officers of the Bowen School P.T.A.

officer brought the following slate into Haskell Freeman, president; Mrs. John Kuhns, vice-president; Mrs. Louise Taglienti, secretary; Mrs. Charles Arcand, treasurer; Mr. Freedman and Mrs. Arthur George, representatives to the Newton Community Council, and Mrs. Serafin Tornabene and Mrs. Haskell Freedman, delegates to the Newton P.T.A. Council.

Mrs. Leo Concannon Elected President Of St. Philip Neri Guild

Newton's Younger Generation

Robert K. Burns, Jr., has a good football build at the moment, although he has a gleam in his eye like a baseball player steeled a base. Time will certainly tell where he's going to excel. At the moment he's an adorable baby of 15 months with Teddy Bears on his suit matching his own blue eyes. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Burns (Ruth Whitman Aldrich) of 36 Taft avenue, West Newton, and grandson of Mrs. Edward R. Aldrich of West Newton and Mrs. M. E. Burns of Boston.

The second of a series of work nights will be held at the home of Mrs. Richard R. MacMillan, 35 Highland avenue, Newtonville, on Tuesday evening, May 18. At this time the members will congregate to work on articles to be sold at the Newtonville Woman's Club annual bazaar which will be held on Tuesday, October 28.

Ample Electricity For All New England

A recent survey among business-managed electric light and power companies of New England discloses a vast new construction program. It will add at least 834,000 kilowatts, or 21 percent to their generating facilities by the end of 1952 and these new generating resources will be capable of producing 3,500,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity annually.

President James V. Toner of Boston Edison Company refers to the new program as a "lete answer to any fear of power shortages in New England." "Although metropolitan Boston has never been short of electricity," he said, "the law of the single unit to be installed under this program is the 81,250 kilowatt turbo-generator being constructed for use in 1949 at the Edison station in Weymouth."

Further information supplied by the electric industry with the purpose of the survey, the significance of the facts revealed and plans of the individual companies for disseminating them to the public.

Each of the six New England states is contributing to this big expansion of electric power facilities.

Says China Given Peace Would Lean Towards Democracy

Stating that "the forces of aggression against the Central government in China are communists who are following the Russian line," Dr. Earle H. Ballou who was secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions in China, gave an inspiring talk on "Can China be saved for the Democrats?" before members of the Rotary Club at its regular meeting Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Dr. Ballou, a Yale graduate, has spent about 32 years in North China and is an active member of the Peiping Rotary Club. He was introduced to the club members by Robbie Robinson, a former member of the local group.

Dr. Ballou illustrated conditions in China at the present time by showing a $10,000 Chinese currency note which years ago had a value of $11,000 American dollars, and is normally worth $3000. "Today's value," Dr. Ballou declared is less than one cent.

"China is in the midst of a civil war, and has been since the Republic was founded," stated Dr. Ballou, "and the forces of aggression against the Central government are Communists, who are following the Russian line and want a close alliance with Russia. This situation goes back to the time when Chiang Kai Chek led an expedition to North China and attempted to bring all China under a Central government. Included in the expedition were many Russian advisors."

He continued by saying that "Sun Yat Sen had looked to various European countries for assistance but Russia was the only one which proffered help. The Communists finally settled in North West China and were unmolested by the Central government."

"When Japan attacked China," continued Dr. Ballou, the Communists gave only passive assistance. They seemed to be waiting for the time when the Japs and the Central government would wear themselves out and they would then take over."

Dr. Ballou gave several examples of the activities, tortures and other methods practiced by the Communists.

"The Central government," Dr. Ballou concluded, "is not altogether corrupt, and if given three or four years of peace, the Chinese people would rapidly go forward to a democracy."

is a man of character, stability, ambition, and the energy to carry through. To such a man this opportunity with a leading financial institution will show a future that will call forth the best that is in him and worthy success will follow. Our standards are high and money returns are on a corresponding basis.
Inform us fully about yourself in a ing the last five years. Application will be held in strict confidence. Give

Legion Post 48 to Send Three Boys to State Conference

As in past years, the Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, is sending three representatives to Amherst, Mass. June 21 to attend the Boys State Conference at the University of Massachusetts, formerly known as Massachusetts State College. This conference lasts ten days and will be attended by substantially 500 carefully selected students from the junior class of high schools throughout the state. While at Amherst these young men will learn both the theory and actual practice of government on all save the national level. In other words, these high school juniors will have an opportunity to conduct elections and then carry on the normal governmental procedure followed in towns, cities, counties and in the state as a whole. Older men, trained by education and experience in the science of government, will provide the necessary instruction and guidance.

Before the conference adjourns, it will elect a governor and a state ticket, just as we all will next fall. Prominent public officials on Beacon Hill will address various sessions of the conference.

It is not all study and work, however. The afternoons are given over to sports and there is also opportunity for musical activities, newspaper editing, etc. All in all, the conference is a fine way to spend part of a vacation and to learn the duties and responsibilities of good citizenship.

Delegates from Newton to attend the Boys State Conference are John Price Lucier, 103 Walnut Hill Road, Newton Highlands; Francis McDade, 37 Jefferson Street, Newton; from Our Lady's High School, from Robert Manning, 48 Cypress Street, Newton Centre, from the Sacred Heart High School, Joseph Murphy, 12 Fayette St., Newton from Our Lady's High School and John Alvord, 55 Institution Avenue, Newton Centre from the Sacred Heart High School.

Newton Highlands
Alvord Bros. realtors, report the recent sale of the thoroughly modern, up-to-date Cape Cod with attached garage and 8750 ft. of land, located at 28 Nantucket road, Newton Highlands. Mr. Charles R. Ernst will occupy.
